OIL FIELD WALKOUT CRISIS

Orange County Union Official to Attend Bakersfield Meet

STRIKE RUMORS AT BEACH CONTINUING

Hundreds of Workers Keep Watch on Proceedings as Situation in Balance

The possibility of a strike of the oil workers in Orange county grew more serious today.

At the same time, rumors, more or less prevalent in the county, that the strike situation in the Bakersfield district might spread to Southern California fields, grew more frequent as it was announced that C. R. Johnson, of Brea, district consul of the Oil Workers' union had been called to Bakersfield to attend an important meeting there tomorrow.

It is possible that a decision may be reached then by the union to the effect that Southern California fields may be included in the general strike of the oil workers.

C. C. Kinsler, secretary of the Oil Workers' union at Brea, said today that he had heard nothing official about the strike aside from the fact that Johnson had received a call to attend the Bakersfield meeting.

At Huntington Beach rumors of a spreading of the strike continued today. It was impossible to verify any reports. Fred Bennett, secretary of the Oil Workers' union there, could not be reached up to a late hour.

There are approximately 700 men employed in the Huntington Beach fields.

An official of the Royal Dutch Shell Oil company at Long Beach, which employs the largest number of workers in the Signal Hill field, said today, according to dispatches, that no trouble was anticipated with its employees.

Agreement Signed
"We signed an agreement some time ago," he said, "granting all that the men asked. We feel certain that our men will stand by that."

The Shell company employs about 800 men.

Between 1200 and 1500 men are employed in the Long Beach field, being distributed among several operating concerns, so that the number with each is not considerable.

Rumors that strike orders would be issued to union workers employed in the Whittier, Ventura, Fullerton, Montebello and other Southern California oil fields were current throughout the Bakersfield district, according to dispatches from Feltows, Kern county.

Union officials would not commit themselves as to the reported plan of spreading the area of the present strike and tying up the oil industry in general throughout the southern portion of the state.

A newspaper story to the effect that the general strike order had already been issued was denied there. Plans to extend the present strike of oil field workers in the Kern county district to all oil fields in the state were reported being made today by the Oil Field Workers' Union, with headquarters at Taft, according to dispatches.

Decision Near
Definite decision on a state-wide strike, which would involve some 25,000 oil field workers, pipe line employees and refinery men, is expected to be reached tomorrow, Taft advisers said.

"If we call a statewide strike, tying up all the fields, pipe lines and refineries the federal government undoubtedly will take action in one manner or another," was the declaration of strike headquarters at Taft. The strikers there declared the purpose of their action has been to force the oil operators to permit the government to underwrite their working agreements and any federal action would be satisfactory, it was indicated.

Martin Madsen, secretary to Governor Stephens, arrived in the Bakersfield oil fields today to make an investigation for the governor.

Stephens himself is in the mountains of Trinity county, where he cannot get in personal touch with the situation. Madsen said he was under instructions to investigate every phase of the strike situation and particularly to determine whether charges of the Oil Producers' association that authority is being usurped by the strike are true.

Maintain Silence
The Kern county oil producers refused to say what action they would

Posse Seeks Escaping Convicts Who Elude Guards in Gun Fight

REDDING, Cal., Sept. 22.—Sheriff's posse today were in pursuit of Jose Mena and Pete Corty, convicts escaped from Folsom prison, who last night eluded prison guards after a gun battle on the state highway near here.

Clarence Larkin and Ed Carson, prison guards, encountered the men on the highway near the power house and commanded them to surrender. The convicts replied with rifle fire and an exchange of ineffective shots, on both sides, ensued.

Retreating as they fired, the convicts made good their escape in the darkness. Corty was sentenced in Colusa, Mena in Los Angeles county, each for a term of five years. They escaped a week ago Sunday from a high-way camp in Trinity county.

OBECHAIN TO TAKE CASE TO HIGHER COURT

Fight to Win Bail For Accused Woman In Kennedy Murder Case To Continue, Word.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—The fight to obtain freedom on bail for Madalynne Obchain will be carried to the state supreme court.

This was the assertion today of Ralph Obchain and Warren Williams, counsel for the young woman, who is accused of complicity in the strange "midnight murder" of John Belton Kennedy, wealthy broker.

An initial attempt to have Madalynne admitted to bail failed in the district court of appeals here. Application for a writ of habeas corpus will be filed Monday in San Francisco before the supreme court, Williams said today.

Irreconcilables Find Flaws In Teuton Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Irreconcilable senators closely scrutinized the treaty of peace with Germany today at the preliminary meeting of the foreign relations committee on the pact.

The question of bringing the American troops home from Germany and the participation of the United States on the reparations committee were the points brought to the attention of the committee by the irreconcilables.

It was pointed out by Senator Borah, who is opposed to the treaty, that ratification of the pact as written by Secretary of State Hughes would bind the United States under the Versailles treaty to keep her troops on German soil as long as France and England desired her cooperation.

This suggestion was discussed by Senators Johnson, of California, Brandegee and Shields, all of the irreconcilable group on the treaty.

"30" BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Republican tariff bill will be laid aside for at least two months while the treasury experts work out the details of the American valuation plan adopted by the senate finance committee, Chairman Penrose announced today.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Income and profits taxes collected for the third quarter of this year totalled $500,000,000, the treasury department announced today. An additional $25,000,000 is expected.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Giants gained another point on Pittsburgh in the National League race today. The New Yorkers were idle and the Pirates broke even in a double bill with Brooklyn.

Two Federal Bureaus Join In Inquiry Of Ku Klux Klan Acts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Imperial Wizard Simon of the Ku Klux Klan and other high officers of the organization may be summoned for a conference with the department of justice, Attorney General Daugherty indicated today. Daugherty pointed out that he had full power to call to Washington any person he deemed necessary in his investigation of the Klan activities.

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Action against the Ku Klux Klan, if the present inquiry warrants such a step, may be directed along three lines, it was learned from high officials here today.

These are:
1.—Attorney General Daugherty may suggest to President Harding that he publicly disapprove of such organization.

2.—Grand jury investigation as to whether the Klan is a violation of federal statutes.

Break In Political Storm Clouds Pleases President

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Harding was frankly pleased today at several rifts appearing in the storm clouds which have hung rather menacingly over Republican affairs for the last few weeks.

Reasons assigned for the new feeling of optimism are:

1.—The Republican victory in the New Mexico senatorial election.

2.—Dwindling of Democratic opposition to the Harding-Hughes treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary.

3.—Decision of Senator Underwood, Democratic senate leader to back the administration throughout the disarmament conference regardless of party differences.

4.—Prospects of early action on tax revision.

Much criticism of the alleged inactivity of congress reached the ears of the presidential party during the recent trip and as a result President Harding has decided to make no further out of town engagements for the present so that he can spend more time on the job in Washington.

FEARS ARMS PARLEY FAILURE WILL MAKE MILITARISM ISSUE

By HERBERT W. WALKER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—

Militarism will become the vital issue in the politics of the world powers, if President Harding's conference on the limitation of armaments fails to put a check on international armaments, William Jennings Bryan said here today in an interview with the United Press.

The people of the United States and the entire world are demanding disarmament and have "high hopes" for the success of the conference, Bryan declared.

"Failure of the conference, in my opinion, probably would make militarism one of the main issues in the new presidential campaign," Bryan said. "Munitions makers and others immediately after an unsuccessful conference would raise the cry that the nation must be made the most powerful military and naval force in the world. They would demand another armament race. There would be the issue.

"Should the conference fail to reach an agreement, I believe a powerful reaction against the cabinets in power would set in. People will demand new governments that will stop spending billions for armament.

"Powerful forces are at work to defeat the work of the conference here and abroad, and these must be exposed to the public," Bryan added. "I do not wish to hamper the conference in any way, but I do not like some recent developments which I do not care to mention now."

Absence Of G. O. P. Solons In Face Of Big Job Alarms Lodge

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Senator Lodge is displeased at the apparent indifference of many Republican senators towards the big and important tasks upon which the senate has begun work.

This indifference, Lodge thinks, was clearly indicated by the absence from the opening session yesterday of 26 Republican senators of a total of 59.

As a result of the large absentee list, it is likely that unless the missing ones return within a day or two they will receive polite but firm notes from Senator Curtis, Lodge's chief lieutenant, urging them to "get on the job."

Lodge enumerated the items on the senate's working program to show how necessary it is for Republicans to stick to business if they are going to enact the administration's policies into laws without delay. The tax bill, Panama canal tolls repeal, the three peace treaties, with Austria, Hungary, and Germany; the anti-beer, the railroad funding and foreign debt refunding bills are all pressing for consideration.

Furthermore, Lodge has factions and groups within his own party that cannot be properly controlled if a large number of "regulars" are absent.

Assassination Of Obregon Is Denied by Aide

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., Sept. 22. Rumors current along the international boundary since early morning to the effect that an attempt had been made to assassinate President Obregon were officially denied in a statement to the United Press today by Gen. P. Elias Calles, secretary of the interior.

"I have been in recent communication with the president," Gen. Calles declared. "The rumors are without foundation."

Gen. Calles, a member of the Obregon cabinet, is close to the president in political affairs.

Calles was here today on his way to Rochester, Minn., where he intends to undergo treatment at the Mayo sanitarium.

WOMAN IS SENTENCED IN AUTO DEATH CASE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—Amid tense silence in the courtroom, Miss Edna C. Duvall, the first woman to be convicted in California of the crime of manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident, was placed on probation today by Judge Sidney Reeve.

Miss Duvall ran over and killed Richard A. Spann, railroad man, as he alighted from a street car here several months ago.

She was sentenced to ten years in prison, and sentence suspended on condition that she must not drive an automobile for the next five years.

Trio Slain By Thugs In Fight In Freight Car

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—Three men were found brutally murdered and robbed in Southern Illinois today.

Missouri Pacific freight crews found one body in a lumber car at Duplo, another at Wolfe lake and the third at Halsey.

Skulls of two of the men were crushed. A piece of blood-stained lumber was found near one of the bodies. The other had been shot through the heart.

Two of the victims wore army uniforms. None have been identified.

Two express receipts were found in the clothing of the man slain at Duplo. One had been issued at Bigelow, Ark., and the other at Clark, La., the destination being New Washington, Ohio.

Authorities believe the three were together in the freight car and they were killed in a fight with other men on the train and the bodies dumped out.

FIND WOMAN'S BODY IN SURF AT BEACH

LONG BEACH, Sept. 22.—The body of Mrs. Cora L. Taft, 54, was found today floating in the surf at the foot of Atlantic avenue.

Police believe the woman committed suicide. Her purse was found on the sand, with a note asking that her brother, Lyden P. Butler, also of Long Beach, be notified.

No motive for the suicide has been established.

DOWAGITCH, Mich., Sept. 22.—Herbert Smith, neighbor of the Monroe family, three members of which were slain with a nail-studded club yesterday, was held for questioning today.

Smith was arrested in Kalamazoo, Mich. He denied any connection with the brutal murder of Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe and their daughter, Neva.

Arrest of another neighbor, said to have been with Monroe and Neva late Saturday night, was expected to be made in Detroit.

HIGH GRADE ORANGE GROVES IN DEMAND

High grade valencia orange groves in Orange county are in as great demand at good prices as ever, in the opinion of E. R. Maury, who recently moved from Tustin to 1522 Stanley avenue, Hollywood. Good property, especially in small pieces and well located as to paved roads and schools will, he believes, always be in demand. His opinion is based on his experience in selling his property at the corner of First and Prospect, Tustin.

Less than sixty days ago, Maury subdivided his twelve-acre tract into three-acre lots and the last of the tracts was sold this week to R. O. Wells, Santa Ana, an old resident of Orange county.

Maury bought property of J. S. Rice about ten years ago and developed what has been declared to be one of the best valencia orange groves in Southern California. He has since sold it at big prices per acre.

Indications were that the strikers were planning to follow the same methods in conducting a state-wide strike as they have followed at Taft, discharges say, namely, organizing their own "law and order" guard, members of which they will seek to have deputized as constables, and to take complete control of the strike district.

FISHING JOBS HOLD UP DRILLING WORK

At about 4400 feet the Westminster Oil company's wildcat well at Westminster is held up with a fishing job. The drill pipe twisted off nine stands down and left a lot of pipe in the hole. Special tools are being made to fish with. The showings in the shale and shell, alternating, have been about the same since leaving 3900. The outlook for a well is fair.

The Standard Oil company's Chaffee No. 1 at Garden Grove is in the fishing list. At 3229 some iron was lost in the hole and this is now being fished out.

The Petroleum Midway has dismantled the rig, taken down the boilers, and hauled all the equipment away from the Buena Park well. This is taken to mean that the well is being abandoned and the lease turned back. The well was drilled to 2409 and met with a bad fishing job.

BABY BORN ON PEACE DAY

Salisbury, Mass.—"For seven years
I had a female trouble and such bearing down pains I could hardly do my housework. The doctor said, 'If you can have another baby it might be the best thing for you but I am afraid you cannot.' I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my baby was born on 'Peace Day.' If women would only take your Vegetable Compound they would have better health,
'always recommend it.'—Mrs. TRACY
PATTEN, 2 Lincoln Ave., Salisbury, Mass.

The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as it is impossible for a weak, sickly wife to bring healthy children into the world.

Therefore if a woman is suffering from a displacement, backache, inflammation, ulceration, bearing-down pains, headaches, nervousness or
'the blues' she should profit by Mrs.
Patten's experience, take Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be restored to health.

PROMPT HEARING IS ASKED IN RATE CASE

Orange county orange and lemon growers were keenly interested today in the announcement that at a meeting of the board of directors of the California Citrus league yesterday in Los Angeles it was decided to ask the Interstate commerce commission to set for prompt hearing the California citrus fruit case, No.
10525. This case was ordered reopened in June by the commission for further hearing, which was postponed pending the result of a conference with the executive traffic officers of the Western lines, a committee of the league and a member of the commission in Washington on August 5.

Following that conference the Western lines proposed a reduction in the blanket rates from $1.92 to $1.68 per hundredweight on oranges and from $1.66 to $1.46 per hun-dredweight on lemons, subject to the concurrence of the lines east of Chicago.

The league, according to E. M.
Lyon, the president, has recently been advised that the Eastern lines declined to concur in the reductions and the industry has therefore been forced to ask the commission to formally review the rates now being exacted. Since June, 1918, the freight charges on oranges have been increased 86 per cent and on lemons 71 per cent, and in addition extra charges have been made for special services heretofore covered in the freight rate, Mr. Lyon says.
Efforts to secure relief from these rates which the industry considers unreasonable from every standpoint have proven unavailing, although reductions have been made in the rates on most other commodities moving from and to the Pacific coast, league officers say.

ATTORNEYS PLAN FOR BATTLE IN ARBUCKLE CASE

United Press Leased Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Lowell Sherman, witness in the case of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, charged with the alleged murder of Virginia Rappe, may not be brought back to San Francisco to testify.

Isadore Golden, assistant district attorney, following a conference with District Attorney Brady today, said that it probably will be impossible to force Sherman's return here unless he comes voluntarily. Lack of funds, Golden said, would prevent the state bringing Sherman here from New York, where he was found today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Battle lines were sharply drawn today for the fight which will decide whether Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle must go on trial with even his life in jeopardy, for the alleged murder of Virginia Rappe, beautiful Los Angeles film actress.

The defense, still "reserving its right of silence," was known to have prepared a case designed to set up for Arbuckle a contention that Miss Rappe's death might have been caused by any one of several causes other than an alleged attack by Arbuckle.

It was not expected, however, that the defense would offer any witnesses at Arbuckle's preliminary examination today, contenting itself with sharp cross-examination of state witnesses.

Have Important Witnesses
The state had summoned seven witnesses and perhaps a dozen of less importance were said to be available.

Dr. Arthur Beardslee, one of Miss Rappe's attending physicians before her death, remained an unknown quantity in the case today.

He had not arrived up to an early hour, from his hunting camp in the Sierras and a detective was detailed to search for him. He had been expected here every day since Monday.

Miss May Parsons, also wanted as a witness, was likewise missing. The "Mary Parsons" located in Port Worth, Texas, proved to be the wrong May Parsons, District Attorney Brady announced.

Brady was considerably disturbed by the word from New York that Lowell Sherman evaded authorities there yesterday. Sherman was wanted as a highly important witness.

Brady Wants Sherman
"I want Sherman and I'm going to get him," Brady declared. "If I can't get him one way I'll get him another."

Brady strongly intimated that he might ask the grand jury to return an indictment against Sherman on a minor charge growing out of Arbuckle's "party."

Arbuckle's preliminary hearing, opening this afternoon, was expected to last the remainder of the week. It can have any one of three outcomes. The court may require Arbuckle to stand trial for murder; it may reduce the charge to manslaughter punishable by ten years' imprisonment; or it may release Arbuckle on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Arbuckle was not to be put on the stand today.

Arbuckle To Face Women
A court room crowded with women was to hear what promised to develop the most sensational testimony heard in a San Francisco court for years. Judge Lazarus ruled that women should be first admitted and it was certain that no men, outside of the judge, jury, lawyers, court attaches and newspapermen would find places.

OIL MAGNATE KILLS SELF, WOUNDS WOMAN IN DOUBLE SHOOTING

DENVER, Sept. 22 — J. A. Reynolds, oil operator of Texas and California, was dead here today and Mrs. Hazel Barnett, 30, was in a serious condition at a local hospital, following the shooting of the woman by Reynolds, who then turned the gun on himself here last night.

Mrs. Barnett, who will recover, said she met Reynolds in Fresno, Calif., and that he had been following her around for several weeks.

Reynolds and Mrs. Barnett were sitting on the courthouse lawn here when the shooting occurred. It was witnessed by a large crowd.

VESSEL TAKES FOOD TO STARVING CREW

United Press Leased Wire
COOS BAY, Ore., Sept. 22.—It's crew barely saved from starvation by the timely arrival of the steamer President, the Norwegian four-masted schooner Nottingham, 96 days out of Buenos Aires for Port Townsend, Wash., was reported far out to sea today and with a southeast breeze well in hand.

The Nottingham appeared off this port late Tuesday and signalled for food. Captain M. N. Jensen, of the coast-guard station, was informed that the schooner's crew had been on rations for days but that their food supplies had been completely exhausted.

Captain Jensen's efforts to put a ton of food on board failed because of the stiff gale sweeping the coast. The schooner drifted out to sea but managed to get in touch with the President, which gave the wind-jammer ten days' rations.

A passing steam schooner reported the Nottingham's position to the Englewood wireless station this morning.

ABE RUEF PLANS HELP FOR FOLK WITH IDEAS

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 22.—"It takes more than a lifetime to live down a reputation after you have made a misstep."

This was the declaration of Abe Ruef of San Francisco, the central figure in one of the nation's most sensational bribery cases, who has been here on business.

Ruef was sentenced to serve fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary after having been convicted of bribing a supervisor to vote for an overhead franchise for the United Railways. On August 21, 1915, he was paroled, after a perfect conduct record during his term of imprisonment.

Following his release from the penitentiary, Ruef went into retirement on his ranch in the San Joaquin valley. He is now interested in the real estate and investment business, and came to Oregon to look over some of his property.

A new "business proposition" in which Ruef is interested is that of "dealing in ideas." "I haven't actively begun the business of ideas," Ruef said, "but I believe there is a great field for it. There are a great many people with good ideas which they are afraid to develop for fear they will be taken advantage of by exploiters and promoters, or else because they do not know how to turn these ideas into realities. I have in mind an organization to offer aid to this class of people."

"This scheme has already brought me letters from all over the world. One recently reached me from Russia merely addressed to 'Abe Ruef, U. S. A.', in Russian. It took some time to arrive, but it finally got to me."

Ruef admits that a large part of his time is taken from conducting his own affairs by reason of the numerous appeals for advice and help which he receives from all over the country from persons who, like himself, have made a misstep and suffered for it, and who want to come back in the face of the hardships which the world admittedly places in the way of "the man with a record."

High School Girls' League Plays Hostess to "Little Sisters"

Among the merry social events with which the members of the Girls' League of the high school ushered in the beginning of school and their winter's program, was the picnic luncheon with which the "big sisters" entertained the "little sisters" on the school campus, recently.

Each "big sister" member of the senior class, came to school with a box packed with lunch enough for herself and the particular Freshie to whom she will act as "guide, philosopher and friend" during the term of school.

Two large tables were placed on the lawn and fitted up in true cafeteria style, following which the girls, armed with their plates, helped themselves to the salads, sandwiches and other "goodies" on display and, gathering in little groups, enjoyed a merry picnic.

This was followed by short talks from different members present, among them Miss Wilma Plavan, the new president of the club; Miss Berenice Henning, who helps direct its activities; Miss Nellie Wilson, athletic director, and Miss Isabel Anderson, who has charge of the activities of the girls of the high school.

The next affair sponsored by the League, will be a plunge party to be given next Tuesday at Huntington Beach, when the prowess of the girls in the water will be put to the test.

Mrs. Sallie Burson Is "Victim" of Surprise

A group of neighbors and friends very pleasantly surprised Mrs. Sallie Burson yesterday afternoon on her eighty-seventh birthday, at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Phillips, 1014 North Ross, where she makes her home. They also showered her with pretty gifts.

Giant zinnias decked the comfortable rooms, where, all during the afternoon, old-fashioned games were played, into which the happy honoree entered most heartily.

Miss Lizzetta Phillips, a great-granddaughter, entertained during the afternoon with several pretty piano numbers, after which dainty refreshments were served.

The guests included: Mmes. Ross, Kron, Crane, Edwards, Linsey, Green, Adamson, Smith and Rogers.

Bride-Elect Is Happily Surprised at Lovely Miscellaneous Shower
Miss Jessie Anderson, whose marriage to Mr. Herbert Messersmith is to be an event of this fall, was the inspiration of a merry and very pretty surprise miscellaneous shower last Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Frank Hantsbarger, 1038 West Second street.

When the unsuspecting little bride-to-be arrived at the Hantsbarger home she was taken into the dining-room, where the guests had assembled with their tokens piled high on the table, and a more surprised young miss would have been hard to find.

The evening was full of surprises, during which the hostess served a dainty luncheon to the following: The Misses Anderson, Kitty Tucker, Ida Gerken, Dora Swoffer, Ducky Dixon, Ruby McCracken, Marie Larson, Adah Squires, Grace Seutres, Helen Pierpoint, Irene Aubuchon, Mae Dunn, Ruth Richards and Stella Steffler.

Spurgeon Memorial Women Hear Miss Viola Hill

Miss Viola Hill, who, since her return from the mission field in Ningpo, China, has so often told of her experiences there, at various meetings and gatherings, was again the gracious entertainer at the all-day meeting of the missionary society of the Spurgeon Memorial church, held in the church parlors yesterday.

Her address was supplemented by her interesting collection of Chinese curios, which in themselves are always a source of great pleasure.

Miss Hill's talk followed the regular literary meeting, the subject of which was "China," and in charge of Mrs. A. A. Jones.

The regular missionary meeting was held in the morning and was opened by Mrs. Henry Donnan with a Bible study from the fifth and sixth chapters of Romans.

Mrs. E. B. Covington conducted the mission study, "Survey to Service," which concluded the morning session.

Luncheon was served at noon.

THE PATCHWORK QUILT HAVE YOU A PIECE TO PUT IN IT?

DESSERT SUNSET

The air was full of a golden glow from the skies above and the sands below.

While the sunset sky and the sun itself were so much treasure of fairy pelf.

I stood and gazed as one entranced at the yellow bars where the witches danced.

They swayed and whirled in the golden mist 'til I shivered and shook as I watched them twist.

No sound was there save the breeze which stirred in the leafless green of the Palo Verde.

Never a crow at the mountain's crest to call to his mate winging home to the nest.

Not even the chirp of a cricket shrill, nor the haunting cry of the whip-poor-will.

Never a sound save the wind's soft moan, in all that waste I stood alone.

And I turned and fled like a soul pursued by the grim, the terrible solitude.

WHEN LITTLE SISTER starts to school, hand clasped in hand of little brother, the problem of the noon-day lunch is one that's sure to vex their mother.

And so suggestions for that lunch are sure to be considered thrilling, especially when they chance to give new ideas for sandwich filling.

Equal parts peanut butter and chopped raisins. (Raisins steamed or dropped in boiling water are improved.)

Equal parts peanut butter and chopped dates.

Equal parts peanut butter and mayonnaise dressing.

Any of these additions remove that tendency of peanut butter to cleave to the tongue or roof of mouth.

To deviled ham, potted meat or any of the canned sandwich spreads add: (a) Chopped olives, (b) chopped pimientos, canned or fresh, (c) chopped sweet pickles. Grate cheese and mix with chopped pimientos.

WE SCARCELY KNOW whether it is a greater commentary on the place woman is gradually gaining for herself in the field hitherto held sacred to man, or the peculiar egotism of man who believes woman ill-fitted to share the secret places of the Most High, but anyway, we're all rejoicing that the Roentgen society of London has so amended its rules as to accept as a member Mme. Curie.

And to prove the French scientist whose experiments and investigations conducted first with her husband and following his death, alone, have given to the world its knowledge of radium.

The efforts of a number of women of this country to raise a $100,000 fund to prize with an income all her life were crowned with success, and she will now be able to pursue her scientific investigations certain that the howl of the wolf will not penetrate the laboratories.

MADAME PATCHES: Have you heard this one?

"I am a great believer in specialists," said Mrs. Brown to her neighbor, Mrs. Jones. "When I have trouble with my nose I go to a nose specialist, when I have trouble with my eyes I go to an optometrist, and so on."

"I believe you are quite right," replied Mrs. Jones. "Archibald junior has to have his tonsils out, the school nurse tells me, so I think I shall take him to a regular tonsorial artist." LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP.

THE ATMOSPHERE of the big Norris prune ranch near San Francisco, must be peculiarly conducive to writing of popular fiction, for the talented bard of the manor, Charles G. Norris, and his equally talented wife, Kathleen Norris, have published almost simultaneously two of the most popular books of the season.

That of the former, "Brass—a Novel of Marriage," we discussed in an earlier quilt. Its biographical construction and its rather more-than-less-pessimistic outlook is distinctly opposed to the Pollyannaish romance of "The Beloved Woman" by Kathleen Norris.

Norma Sheridan is the "Beloved Woman," and she lives up to the name in a perfectly satisfactory manner. A very charming heroine, indeed—as all of Mrs. Norris' heroines are—her greatest charm is her naturalness—a naturalness which does not forsake her, even after she is transplanted from Biretta's bookstore and the third story apartment with its Nottingham lace curtains, taborettes and patent rockers to the rarified atmosphere of the aristocratic Melrozes.

This change, while not especially affecting Norma's charm, does alter temporarily her sense of values, and

Nurses' Fete Proves Very Successful and Assures Coveted Club Rooms

Successful in every detail, last evening's lawn party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Burlew, on North Broadway, was highly pleasing to the nurses who gave it and to the scores of people who attended.

The purpose of the affair was to raise money for a fund to be used to establish a nurses' club rooms of club house. It is probable that the first step in the development of their plans will be in fitting up club rooms.

The beautiful grounds of the Burlew home were made even more beautiful with hanging Japanese lanterns, the light of which was soon added to by the light of the moon.

Out-of-doors, the cement tennis court served as a rostrum during the program and as dancing floor for the dance.

White-capped nurses were here and there, adding good cheer and a spirit of friendliness to the happy occasion. Booths where fancy work articles and homemade candies were to be had, a department of refreshments of ice-cream, cake and coffee, and a bowl from which delicious punch was served were among popular features of the evening.

The program, announced by A. H. Paterson, included musical selections by the orchestra, attractive toe dancing by little Miss Elizabeth Roehm and a charming veil dance by Miss Martha Lelisp.

Miss Ethel Phillips, of Los Angeles, recited effectively and pleasingly a number of selections in Italian dialect. A highly pleasing vocal solo by Mrs. Thomas Willets and a beautiful clarinet solo by Mr. Lyle Roberts completed the program.

With Chapman's orchestra, the music for the dancing was everything in excellence that could be imagined, and the crowd of dancers enjoyed the affair thoroughly.

It is with the sense of realizing expectations that one sees her yield to the fascination of Christopher Liggett, whose invalid wife, Alice, is almost the first friend Norma makes among the Melrozes.

Norma's strength of character is sufficient that she turns from the brilliancy of the world of fashion and marries her foster cousin, Wolf, over whom we found a little difficulty in waxing enthusiastic—he seemed so very literal and mediocre.

But her first adaptation to the new life in the tiny Colonial cottage, with its Kate Greenaway garden, doesn't last, and she sighs for the flesh pots of Egypt, coupled with the love of Chris. But when that desire and that love both seem fated to be fulfilled through the death of old Madame Melrose, followed immediately by that of Alice—the invalid wife—Norma soon learns that her ideas of happiness have changed, even with the clearing up of the puzzle of her parentage.

Just how far this carries her "back to normalcy"—and Wolf, we will not say, except for the statement that the book would have met with the approval of Roosevelt, who always demanded a happy ending.

Life's an adventure, Love is its spice; And for the ending Death throws the dice.

Brothers-White Nuptials Performed In Pretty Setting at Bride's Home

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard N. Brothers, 1421 North Broadway, was the scene of a very pretty wedding last evening, when their daughter, Lucille, became the bride of Mr. William H. White Jr., son of Mr. W. H. White, of Orange, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends.

Dr. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church, was the officiant.

The spacious living room was beautifully decorated, gorgeous dahlias being used to carry out the color scheme of pink and white. A huge bowl of pink amaryllis was effectively used in the dining-room.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the notes of the piano were heard and three beautiful vocal solos were rendered, with Miss Ruth Armstrong as accompanist: "Until" (Sanderson) by Miss Marjorie Warner; "At Dawning" (Caldman) by Miss Holly Lash, and "Because" (D'Hardelot) by Miss Louise Montgomery, who were all close friends of the bride.

While the wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was being played by Miss Lenore Tompkins, the door was thrown open by the usher, Mr. Jack Colvin and the bride party entered, led by the bride's maid, Miss Margaret Stump, gown in pink tulle over metallic cloth, carrying a bouquet of lovely pink roses and maiden hair fern.

Dainty little Miss Marian Doty in pink organdie and carrying the ring, preceded the bride, who was led by her father through a flower-bordered aisle to an improvised altar under a canopy of asparagus plumosis, banked with flowers and potted plants, and under a flower bedecked wedding bell, she was given by her father, into the keeping of the groom, who was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Norvin Brothers.

The bride gown was of shimmering pussy willow satin and had insets of delicate point lace, brought by the bride's father from Paris, where he was stationed, in medical work, during the World War. Her tulle veil was held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms, and she carried a lovely shower bouquet of white orchids, valley lilies and bride's roses, which after the ceremony she presented to her mother, who stood by, charming in a gown of embroidered net over shell satin.

While refreshments of ice cream and cake were being served by a coterie of young friends, the Misses Hazel Harding, Marjorie Ellis, Carolyn Haughton, Marjorie Warner, Ruth Armstrong, and Holly Lash, the bride, in a becoming blue suit of chiffon broadcloth, ran the gauntlet of her friends and the inevitable let of her friends and the inevitable let of her friends and the inevitable let of her friends.

Many beautiful gifts were received and among the remembrances the bride prizes telegrams of congratulations received from her grandfather and uncle in Beaumont, Texas. A complete set of flat silver, besides numerous odd pieces and much cut glass were in evidence. A substantial check from the groom's father was also among the gifts.

The accomplished bride is a charming, vivacious little lady, popular among the younger set of Santa Ana, where she has resided for the last four years, and the groom is a prosperous young business man of Fullerton, where, after a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in a handsome new bungalow, completely furnished throughout and ready to occupy, a gift of the groom's father.

Out-of-town guests from Corona, Riverside and Long Beach were present.

Popular Imperial Valley Couple Wed Here at Elaborate Church Service

At an impressive church wedding at high noon today, Miss Alida Estrella Neifert, a prominent member of Imperial valley's social set, and Mr. Ward Irvin McGrew, also well known in Imperial valley social and business circles, were united in marriage.

The wedding took place at the First Presbyterian church, the service being read by the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, in the presence of only the immediate families and a few close friends.

The bride party presented one of the prettiest wedding pictures of the season, with its setting of fragrant orange blossoms, roses and oleanders, which were used in abundance.

Mrs. D. Eymann Huff, a close friend of the bride, played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the nuptial music.

The bride was a vision of loveliness in her Parisian wedding gown of white crepe de chine and misty veil of silk tulle. She carried a glorious shower bouquet of roses, maiden's breath and orange blossoms, and entered the church on the arm of her father, Mr. Reuben Neifert, who gave her in marriage.

Her honor maid, Mrs. Earl Crawford, who is a sister of the groom, wore a dainty frock of cream crepe of a delicate apricot shade.

Mr. Earl Crawford attended the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony an elaborately appointed wedding breakfast was served at the beautiful ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Eymann Huff, at El Modena, which had been converted into a truly bridal bower with white roses and orange blossoms.

During the afternoon the happy pair left on a motor trip through Northern California.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Neifert, of Imperial Valley, where she is so widely popular both socially and through her position as assistant county superintendent of schools.

The groom is very prominent there as one of the large grape-raisers of that section.

Among those present at the wedding were the parents of the bride and the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. G. Schwenk.

DELAY HEARING OF THEFT CASE PRISONER

Because of an unexpected delay in preparing a transcript of the testimony taken at the preliminary hearing, the arraignment of R. N. Deck in the superior court has been deferred since Monday. Deputy District Attorney Roland Thompson said that Deck probably would be arraigned this afternoon.

Deck is charged with embezzling $183.75 from the Kaufman Spotlight company while employed as bookkeeper. It is understood that he will plead guilty to the information and ask for probation.

Local authorities do not believe probation will be granted in view of the fact that Deck is wanted by San Francisco officers for the same offense with which he is charged here.

According to Deputy Sheriff H. J. Zabel, Deck served a year in the county jail at Seattle for forgery.

J. B. JOPLIN KILLS THREE-POINT BUCK

County Treasurer J. C. Joplin and Frank Sawyer were boasting today of their hunting expedition into Bell Canyon and making preparations for another trip tomorrow.

Joplin shot a three-point buck last Monday. The buck fell on the third shot from Joplin's gun. The bullet broke its neck.

Sawyer fired once at the same buck and missed.

Joplin has sent the buck's head to a taxidermist in Los Angeles.

After it is mounted it will be hung in his office at the courthouse.

ALL-YEAR CLUB PLAN GOES TO COMMITTEE

Referring back to the advertising committee the plan of the All-Year Club, of Los Angeles, to finance an advertising campaign; approving the Boy Scouts movement; filing a report of the good roads committee; recommending that bitulithic pavement be used in the county; and adopting resolutions urging consumers to demand and buy sugar manufactured in Southern California, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county met at the Huntington Inn, Huntington Beach, last night.

The only subject that was discussed was that of supporting the Boy Scout movement in Orange county. The good roads and All-Year club subjects aroused no discussion whatever and they were disposed of immediately following their presentation.

Dr. Roy S. Horton, of the county council of Boy Scouts, introduced the scout subject and gave way to Charles N. Miller, regional executive, who discussed the program, giving a brief outline of the purposes and activities of the organization.

Guy Gilbert, of Santa Ana, treasurer, followed with a statement as to the finances of the county council.

He predicted that a $2000 shortage in this year's fund would be wiped out with the holding of a rodeo in Santa Ana on the evening of October 7.

Tells Budget
He said that $5000 had been determined upon as the budget for the 1921 activities, but that the amount would be increased to $7500 next year. He asked that the associated chambers get back of the organization. Following a demonstration of Boy Scout work by a group of boys chosen from various troops in the county under the direction of Elmer Heidt, scout executive, the chambers endorsed the Boy Scouts under a motion by D. Eymann Huff, in which the president was authorized to appoint a permanent committee of three to co-operate with the council in Boy Scout work.

As chairman of the good roads committee of the chamber, D. Eymann Huff reported conference by the committee and the drafting of a report calling upon Lew H. Wallace, member of the committee, to read it.

"We still suggest that the principal facts in the proper construction of paved roads is the preparation of subgrades, that all subgrades should be properly and effectively drained," says the report. "We still believe that bitulithic pavement is the most adequate, substantial and eventually the most economic method of road construction, which has a degree of permanency, that has been demonstrated in Orange county and other sections of the state that has not been made of cement construction in any instance of like mileage. This is particularly true where heavy traffic had been continuous."

Quotes Authorities
The report refers to what the committee maintains is successful use of bitulithic mixture in repairing paved roads and quotations from authorities on paving materials.

The subject of the All-Year Club campaign was presented by Daniel H. Jones, of Los Angeles, a member of the committee having the work in charge. He declared that it had been discovered that the people of the east recognized Southern California as an ideal place for winter residence but that the impression prevailed that the summer climate is a duplicate of that of some of the states where summer heat is extreme. It is to correct this impression that the advertising campaign has been inaugurated, Jones said.

He said that advertisements already inserted had brought 3000 inquiries from all over the United States.

Predicting that Southern California is destined to become "the Pittsburgh of the West," he urged support of the campaign. He did not go into details of the campaign, nor did he make reference to the basis upon which the quota of $25,000 assigned to Orange county was estimated. The subject of the association's endorsement of the campaign was referred to the advertising committee, with instructions for the committee to investigate and report at the next meeting.

As To Sugar
Declaring that every sack of beet sugar manufactured in Southern California meant at least a dollar more in the net returns on sugar to the manufacturers, with a corresponding increase on the price of beets to the growers, R. P. Davis, of Los Angeles, urged that every effort be made to induce local consumption of the product manufactured in the Southland. Resolutions were passed providing that a committee be appointed to confer with the wholesalers, jobbers, canners and other users of sugar and urge them to use sugar produced in Southern California; and also to urge the manufacturers interested to create a demand on the part of the consumer for the local product.

Declaring that the lowering of water levels in Orange county was a situation seriously threatening the interests of the county, Fred Ahlborn of Anaheim offered a motion that a committee be appointed to study the question and report from time to time on the condition. The motion was adopted.

Speaking in the interest of the Orange county fair to be held at Huntington Beach next week J. A. Armistage declared his belief that construction work on the coast boulevard would be in progress within a year. H. W. Keller, vice president of the Auto club of Southern California, had previously spoken, urging activity of the chambers in bringing about influence that will have its effect in starting building of the highway. He warned against the possibility of the greater portion of the state bond money voted for the purpose being used in northern California road construction.

A steak dinner was served the eighty-five or ninety men and women present. Linn H. Colburn recently assumed the management of the Inn. The address of welcome was by T. B. Talbert and the response by J. D. Thomas of Olive.

BEAN MARKETING CRISIS FACED BY DEALERS

Allowance of a 4 per cent tolerance on blackeye beans by the California Bean Dealers' association, granted at a conference in Los Angeles today, is said to have relieved a situation that threatened serious interference with marketing of this season's product.

Because of an infection that causes small brown spots on the beans, which spots are more noticeable this season than in past seasons, the blackeyes do not grade as high as the grade established by the association. The conference today was for the purpose of reaching a solution of the situation as to grading.

Establishes Grades
"The Bean Dealers' association has been operating in the northern part of the state for several years and only last year extended its operations to Southern California," said Charles E. Morris, independent bean buyer, here today. "It now operates in two divisions, the northern, with headquarters in San Francisco, and the southern, with offices in Los Angeles."

Important Step
"The southern division has established the grade for limas and baby limas and the northern division has control of the standard for all other beans in the state. The southern division has established a standard of its own limas and has adopted that of the California Lima Bean Growers' association on baby limas."

Important Step
"The blackeye has grown almost exclusively in Southern California and with the infection a little more pronounced this year, had not the association taken the action it did today, blackeyes handled by it mostly would have been classed as damaged beans. As it is, they may now go on the market as choice reconditioned ones. The infection does not detract from the quality of the product—it merely affects its appearance."

"The dealers' association has been organized along the line of co-operation with the growers and in the interest of the growers has developed a plan of arbitration for adjustment of differences that might arise anywhere along the line between the producer and the wholesaler."

JUNIOR HI GIRLS GREET NEWCOMERS

A new ideal of friendship and service had been attained today by the girls of Santa Ana Junior high school, following the first meeting of the Every Girl's club, held late yesterday in the school's assembly room.

The meeting was called to welcome the new girls who are in the school, coming from other grades and from outside communities.

The program opened with the singing of the school's adaptation of "A Long, Long Trail," to the music of which the newcomers marched across the platform, each girl carrying a yellow marigold which she placed against a background prepared to receive it and which when completed, made the words, "new members."

Mrs. Iva Webber, dean of girls, then introduced Miss Isabel Anderson, head of the Girl's league of the high school, who gave an interesting talk in regard to the ideals and aims of the club members, and the obligations which each assumed toward her schoolmates, with membership in the club.

The election which then took place resulted in the following girls being appointed as governing body of the organization, which has a membership of 250 girls or more:

President, Miss Lorene Porter; vice president, Miss Marie Mitchell; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Whitman; treasurer, Miss Mary Joe Huff.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS SPEED EASTWARD TO G. A. R. REUNION

Speeding eastward on the Grand Army special, seven veterans of the Civil War were today en route from Santa Ana to Indianapolis, where they will attend the national reunion of the G. A. R., September 27 to October 1.

Those who left early this morning were Frank McDonald, Capt. J. H. Hill, S. H. Hall, S. W. Sutton, G. W. Smith, F. Woodman, P. E. Newman and M. N. Fuller.

Sutton is a national delegate to the convention and Newman will represent the Sons of Veterans.

Mrs. M. N. Fuller, also a member of the party, will represent the Women's Relief corps.

The Santa Anans joined other Southern California delegates in Los Angeles early today and in their special train were joined at Barstow by G. A. R. men from the North.

OSBORNE'S VISIT EAGERLY AWAITED

Orange county harbor boosters were looking forward keenly today to the inspection trip that Congressman H. C. Osborne of Los Angeles will make over the port tomorrow.

Osborne's visit is considered highly important, in that he will be active with Congressman Phil D. Swing, representative from this district, in efforts to secure federal recognition of the harbor project.

Improvements made at the county's harbor during the past year will be shown and explained to Osborne. Osborne will be accompanied by the directors of the Orange County Harbor association, members of the board of supervisors and members of the harbor commission. Former Senator Frank P. Flint of Los Angeles will also be in the party.

The congressman is expected to arrive at Newport at about 9:30 tomorrow morning and will remain until after luncheon, which will be served at the Newport Harbor Yacht club.

The party, which will number about thirty, will investigate the entire port, making the trip by boat.

MYSTERY AS ATTACK LAID TO MEXICAN

Charged with assault with intent to commit robbery, Luis Agunago, Mexican, will be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Cox October 25 at 2 p. m. Agunago was arraigned late yesterday afternoon and released on $1000 bail bond signed by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shipley, proprietors of a Mexican rooming house at Fifth and Shelton streets.

Johnnie Reynolds, a one-armed man who lives near the rooming house, is the complaining witness. He told the authorities that Agunago was perched in a peach tree and that the Mexican swung a club or piece of iron pipe at him when he passed under the tree.

Agunago denies the accusation. He claims he was in the tree for another purpose. Officers Rogers and Smithwick, who arrested Agunago, searched the grounds about the Shipley place for a club or iron pipe, supposed to have been wielded by the Mexican, but could find nothing of the sort.

The officers say there is an element of mystery in the alleged attack which probably will be elucidated at the preliminary hearing. Agunago came here the early part of the week from Los Angeles and rented a room at the Shipley place.

Mr. and Mrs. Shipley showed no hesitancy in going on the bond of the Mexican. They are quoted as saying that they had known the Mexican for some time. Shipley stated in court that he intended to retain Guy Eddie, Los Angeles criminal lawyer, to defend Agunago.

KIWANIANS BACK DRIVE FOR PAY FOR CONVICTS

The Santa Ana Kiwanis club today was squarely back of Charles Brandon Booth in his campaign to secure legislation at the coming session of the state legislature that will provide compensation for all prisoners serving time in the state prisons.

In his address before the club yesterday Booth discussed various features of the present system of handling state prisoners that he considered unjust to the taxpayers, the prisoners and the families and dependents of the convicts. Following the address, the Kiwanis club, by a rising vote, and with but one dissenting vote, approved Booth's proposed campaign.

Booth declared he had started upon a campaign that he hoped would result in arousing the public of the state to the situation and to active support of the movement to bring about legislation that would remedy the evils in the present system complained of.

He spoke with special reference to those confined in Folsom and San Quentin, asserting that they were not employed, and that when they left the institutions their qualifications for taking up life anew were not improved over what they were when they entered the prisons.

"Something for Nothing"

The point to his address was that in serving term under the present regulations the convicted man is getting something for nothing, the very thing that caused his incarceration. He asserted that the great concern with the average prisoner is not the period of his confinement, but what he can do or will be fitted to do when he has paid the penalty for his crime.

He declared that it is costing the taxpayers of this state $400 per year per prisoner confined in the two state penal institutions, and that these men are not producing anything to compensate for this. He referred to the prison at Stillwell, Minn., operated under the policy he would have adopted in California, asserting that the institution is not only self-supporting but that prisoners are being taught useful occupations—occupations that make it possible for them to become useful citizens when they quit the institution at the end of their terms.

Family Pays

"It isn't the man incarcerated who pays the price of his violation of law—it is his family," declared the speaker.

He asserted that when sentence is passed it is upon the family alone, but upon his wife and children, who have to do battle with the world for a living while their bread winner is well found and is "getting something for nothing." He believes the prisoner should be placed at work on regular hours and at regular pay, in

TAKE TESTIMONY IN WOMAN'S AUTO CASE

Testimony was being taken in the civil action brought by Augusta Freeburn against C. B. Abbott for $733.50 damages growing out of an automobile accident. The case was being tried in Department No. 2 of the superior court before Judge R. Y. Williams.

Mrs. Freeburn testified that she was driving north on the state highway at a point near the city limits January 10, when the defendant speeded out of a private driveway and smashed into her machine.

Major M. B. Wellington is attorney for the plaintiff and Stanley Behnau is attorney for the defendant.

Specials on all home made candies on Saturday, Witman's, 410 N. Main.

order that he may support his dependents.

He also touched briefly on the system of paroling prisoners, asserting that statistics show that 85 per cent of the men paroled in California have made good.

J. P. Baumgartner, Dr. R. A. Cushman, Mayor John G. Mitchell, County Probation Officer R. R. Miller, the Rev. John Oliver and Freeman H. Bloodgood briefly discussed the address. Baumgartner offered a motion endorsing the plan of compensating prisoners on a basis that will support the families of those having families or other dependents and it was this motion that the club unanimously and heartily approved.

Jackson Quoted

"Theoretically and to a large extent actually," said Sheriff C. E. Jackson today, "the prisoners all work eight hours a day—in the jute mill, rock quarries, on the roads and in the fields; but neither the prisoners nor their families receive part of their earnings. When a prisoner is discharged he gets a suit of clothes and transportation to his home—nothing more."

Seldom, if ever, has an address delivered in Santa Ana aroused more interest and enthusiasm—size of audience considered—than that delivered by Booth.

Lives at Alhambra

Booth is the son of Maud Ballington Booth and now lives at Alhambra.

William Traeger, sheriff of Los Angeles county, stated today that he maintained an honor roll among prisoners in the county jail at Los Angeles, using those on the roll in road work. The prisoners receive 50 cents a day each, the wage being provided for by the board of supervisors.

(To what extent it is practicable to provide for varied industries and vocational training and some measure of personal compensation in prison administration in California is a moot question, but that it is possible has been proved in other states, notably in Minnesota. In that state Maud Ballington Booth conducted a campaign of education similar to the one her son is now starting in this state, which resulted in legislation under which a very effective system of great social and economic value has been established.—Editor.)

POLY AND CROWN CITY TO CLASH TOMORROW

Santa Ana high school's 1921 football season, it was announced today, will be officially ushered in here tomorrow afternoon when Marvin ("Spud") Morrison's grid men stack up against Pasadena high school in the first battle of the season.

Final arrangements for the affair were settled by Manager Joe Smith early today. The game will start at 3:30 and will be only in the nature of a practice game, it was announced.

Morrison has been sending his cohorts through strenuous drill since school started down at the big white buildings a week ago Monday. More than 100 candidates have turned out for the team. Scrimmage has held the boards all this week.

Reports from the Crown City are that the Pasadena outfit is exceptionally strong this season. Tomorrow's battle should at least enable local football enthusiasts to get a line on what kind of an eleven Morrison will be able to put in the field this year.

Both coaches expect to run in a myriad of substitutes in order to give new men an opportunity to show their wares. Morrison announced that he would pick his lineup, to be given the Pasadena fray, from the following list:

SAY MAN HAD RIFLE IN GAME RESERVE

Charged with having a rifle in his possession in District 4, C. a federal reserve in the Santa Ana mountains, without having a written permit from the state fish and game commission, Emmett R. McLean, of Los Angeles, today paid a fine of $25, assessed by Justice of the Peace Cox.

McLean was arrested by Game Warden W. E. Adkinson and his deputy, Andrew J. Adkinson says he had reason to believe that McLean had been hunting deer in the mountains.

While hunters are allowed to kill deer outside the government reserves during the hunting season, they are not allowed to kill deer in a game refuge. Such refuges are established by the government for the protection of the game.

McLean's arrest marks the first of the season in this connection.

NEW RESIDENCES SCHEDULED AS N. BROADWAY LOT SOLD

Carey R. Smith Disposes of Property at Corner Washington

PRICE PAID IS $15,000

Bungalow Court Also Enters Into Proposed Improvements

Three new residences on North Broadway, each to cost between $12,000 and $15,000, and a residence and bungalow court on Washington will result from the sale by Carey R. Smith, local capitalist, of the northeast corner of Broadway and Washington avenue.

The purchasers are Charles Seamans and A. J. Lasby, members of the real estate firm of Carden, Liebigh & Seamans, of this city, and Charles F. Heil, president of the Excelsior Creamery company.

Papers transferring the property were passing today through the office of a local title company.

Walter Gustlin, automobile salesman of this city, has arranged with the purchasers to buy a 90-foot frontage on Washington avenue upon which he contemplates the location of a bungalow court.

The tract has a frontage of 191 feet on Broadway, with a depth of 273 feet, and the price paid was $15,000.

The frontage will be divided about equally between the three buyers, with the depth of the lots to be 143 feet. The remainder of the depth will be converted into lots fronting on Washington avenue. The first lot has been taken by Seamans, who will at once build a residence. This lot will be 45 feet wide and 191 feet deep. Gustlin will take the remaining frontage of 90 feet. Gustlin will hold the property until such time as he may arrange to carry out his building plans.

Heil to Build
Of the Broadway frontage, Seamans will have the corner lot, Lasby the second and Heil the third. It is understood that Heil will start building operations in the immediate future, with the expectation of having the work completed by November 1.

The date when Seamans and Lasby will build depends more or less upon such time as they sell residences they are now occupying.

The Broadway and Washington corner has been in the possession of Carey R. Smith for many years, and is an ideal site location for a group of fine residences.

ATTENDANCE GAINS
School opened at Seal Beach with an increased attendance. Enrollment on the opening day was 130, as against 82 last year and 50 the year before. The enrollment is the largest in the history of the school, the eighth grade being especially large.

Register Better Homes Week Lecturer To Tell Home Routine Schedule

How may a home be run on schedule?

The question is often asked of a domestic science instructor.

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase will face a battery of similar queries next week, no doubt.

Mrs. Chase, who is to appear here under the auspices of The Register, will demonstrate the daily schedule which may be adapted to any home and which is designed to lessen the burden of the routine home duties.

And this demonstration, it should be borne in mind, is merely one of many constructive units which will form the ensemble of The Register's Better Home week at the armory.

Pivotal Point in Home
The basis of a daily schedule for the home is, of course, the planning and arranging of the three daily meals, for around these centers all the activities of the home. Usually the three meals must be served at certain times, so it follows that the rest of the daily duties must be arranged to synchronize with the meal preparation.

Mrs. Chase will explain how the time element plays so large a part in housekeeping. She will show how systematic housekeeping may be made a means to an end, the end being a pleasant and orderly home, managed—not by a housekeeper—but by a home-maker.

Labor-Saving Devices
In her talks Mrs. Chase will emphasize the importance of labor-saving devices and their need in the modern home. Among these devices none is a greater labor-saver than the kitchen cabinet, whose manifold uses will be shown in the beautifully appointed kitchen which will be outfitted by the J. C. Horton Furniture company. Furniture dealers have long recognized the popularity of this special piece of kitchen furniture, which combines a pleasing appearance with genuine utility.

In her working kitchen, furnished by the Spurgeon Furniture company, Mrs. Chase, whose accomplishments are not confined to just one phase of domestic science, but who is also a finished cook, will show the manner in which her delicious dishes are prepared.

Home-Made Products
Flaky tea biscuits will be rolled out on the bread board of the kitchen cabinet. They are to be compounded from Orange brand flour from the Nicholls-Loomis company; baking powder from the Calumet company; shortening from the Henry Seidel meat market, and milk from the Excelsior creamery, so that the biscuits are to be almost entirely local in their make-up. These are to be served with the unexcelled butter which the Excelsior creamery produces and will prove a toothsome bite.

The kitchen cabinet, which figures in this appearance, is to be one of the well-known McDougall cabinets, and is to be a part of the Spurgeon exhibit, while the stove used for baking is to be a Garland gas range, also from the Spurgeon store.

The biscuits prepared by Mrs. Chase will have a close rival in those to be seen in the W. D. Baker exhibit, for it is an often-heard expression from Santa Ana housewives that "it scarcely pays me to bake any more, the Baker things are so delicious and so nearly like what one makes at home." The secret, of course, lies in the fact that exactly the same materials are used that one finds in the well-stocked cupboards of a home.

EDISON CHIEF OUTLINES BIG POWER PLAN

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—"The complete development of the Colorado river under private initiative and enterprise with public regulation would result in greater speed and more economical construction, in less friction, in equitable distribution of the power to all consumers and municipalities without discrimination."

In these words, in an address before the largest gathering the Fullerton board of trade has had in months, R. H. Ballard, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Edison company, summed up his view of the proposals for the development of power by the use of the waters of the Colorado river.

Two projects are up for consideration, one for development by the Edison company, the other by the city of Los Angeles.

Ballard pointed out that the Edison company, through the fact that there are 35,000 individual owners of Edison stock and through the fact that the public may invest in the company's stock, is close to the people.

Of Vast Importance
He said that the plan of operations of the company is for constructive public service, and the demands

C. CROOKSHANK PLANS $25,000 RESIDENCE

Lemon Heights Home to Be One of Show Places of Orange County

Planned to occupy a commanding position on his Lemon Heights ranch, where it will overlook a magnificent sweep of the Santa Ana valley, the proposed new residence of C. S. Crookshank, former cashier of the First National bank, will be one of the show places of Orange county.

The residence, which the architect estimates will cost $25,000 exclusive of the landscape features and other work to be done on the property, will be of a modernized colonial design. Its exterior will be of cement stucco and the roof will be of clay tile.

Modern Conveniences.
There will be four bathrooms and the interior finish will be hardwood. A steam heating system will be installed, as well as all the modern conveniences of a country home.

The surroundings will be landscaped to form a fitting background for the dignified and beautiful home.

From a wide paved terrace at the front of the house, a short flight of steps will lead down to the sweep of lawn, beyond which will lie the Italian gardens with their lily pool, bird baths and all the beauties which form such a garden's appeal.

To Fit Into Landscape.
On an outstanding point beyond the gardens will stand the pergola summer house which will be designed to fit into the whole landscape scheme.

The working plans for the residence are being prepared by Frederick H. Eley, architect, who will supervise over the working out of the entire scheme.

IOWAN BUYS LOT; TO BUILD RESIDENCE

S. R. Hauck, who arrived here recently from La Mar, has purchased a lot on the northwest corner of Richland avenue and South Ross street and will erect a residence at once. The lot was bought of Dr. Charles Whitted and J. A. Dowell was agent in the transaction. The consideration was $3000.

J. W. Wing, a member of the firm of Wing Brothers, operating a paint and paper store at the corner of Birch and Fourth streets, has purchased the residence of E. B. Jamieson, 619 South Broadway.

Wilbur Wasser, secretary of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks, has bought a vacant lot on the southeast corner of Sycamore and Chestnut of Henry V. Wall, Long Beach.

VISIT CATALINA
L. J. Carden and Charles Seamans, of the real estate firm of Carden, Liebigh & Seamans, are at Avalon for a few days. They went across the channel yesterday and will remain until next Tuesday or Wednesday. Carden writes The Register that Seamans was "in bad shape" when the boat landed at the island wharf.

LODI.—The contract for paving Pleasant, Ellen and Stockton avenues and Church street was let to the Clark and Henery Construction company for 20 1/2 cents per square foot. The total cost of the contract will be around $500,000. The Clark and Henery bid was the only one submitted. Under the new bid the city will save about $10,000 over a bid rejected some weeks ago.

TWO-STORY FLAT FOR SIXTH AND SPURGEON

W. E. Gates Buys Property of Dr. J. L. Dryer With View to Building

A stucco two-story flat building is in prospect for the southwest corner of Spurgeon and Sixth streets with the purchase this week of that property by W. E. Gates. It was purchased of Dr. J. L. Dryer.

"I have purchased the corner with a view to the erection of a four-flat building," declared Gates today. "It is an ideal location for an improvement of this character. The corner is close in and I feel certain that living quarters of the character I contemplate building will always be in demand and at a rental that will fully justify the investment."

"And, speaking of vacant lots, in my opinion the time will never come again when vacant property may be purchased in Santa Ana as cheaply as now."

"I am investing considerable money in vacant lots and in purchases already made I have made money by making improvements."

ILLINOIS JEWELER TO MAKE HIS HOME HERE?

W. H. Gould, a prominent business man of Farmer City, Ill., left today for his home. His family, now living at 827 South Broadway, moved here from San Bernardino this week. Miss Helen J. Gould, a daughter, is instructor in music and art at a junior high school. Gould, who is a jeweler, may engage in business here upon his return. He came to Southern California to stay only two weeks, but was so taken with the climate and beauty of the Southland that his visit grew into a stay of five weeks. His family passed the winter in San Bernardino.

BUYS 100 ACRES
The Garden Grove Oil Land company held a banquet and business meeting for its salesmen and a number of invited guests at Garden Grove. Thirty-nine were present. The company has purchased the 100-acre Parmalee tract 2 1/2 miles west of Garden Grove and divided it into oil lots to sell at $150 each. It is reported that 38 lots were sold Sunday and 14 Monday.

BUILDS APARTMENTS
Robert Woods is building a double apartment house on his lots at 1407 Acacia avenue, Huntington Beach. Each of the apartments will contain four rooms. N. C. Carroll is building a four-room bungalow on the rear of his property at 612 Twelfth street, Huntington Beach.

PLAN NEW BUILDING
Corner stakes have been set at Placentia for the latest addition to the buildings on the high school campus. This will be a wing on either side of the study hall and will make a continuous structure from the physics and chemistry building on the west to the English building on the east. It is expected that building will begin about December 1.

Your Opportunity In $8000 Contest Open Everywhere

If you live ANYWHERE in Orange county you are eligible to win the Big Six Studebaker, offered as the capital prize in The Register's stupendous $8000 circulation-building contest.

Whether your home is in Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Brea or any other of the prosperous communities which the paper serves, you have an equal opportunity with every other contestant. No favors will be shown and you are just as likely to take the big award, whether you live in Capistrano or La Habra. All The Register asks is that you put forth your very best efforts—and you don't have to confine your efforts to your own home locality.

The Register is the one big Orange county daily and no matter in what part of the county you reside, you will find hundreds of persons who rely upon their county seat paper to keep informed from day to day of the developments of city and county which vitally concern them.

Go out into the highways and byways and bring in the subscriptions of your friends, for each one helps you in your favored progress and places you one more notch higher in the list of those who are trying for the thirty valuable prizes which are offered.

History repeats itself, and, just as an Anaheim young woman received the award of a touring car in a Register contest several years ago, just so today the resident of Orange, or Anaheim, or Fullerton or Yorba Linda has the chance to ride away in a touring car of the latest model when the present great contest closes on the night of November 7.

There is no limit to what you may accomplish if you only try hard enough, and municipal boundaries are powerless to stop your onward march if you are determined to succeed. In fact, some of the most fertile territory for your efforts is farther away from the center of population, where The Register is not so well distributed and where the vote-building new subscriptions may more easily be obtained.

If your friends are already taking The Register, they will be glad to renew and pay for one, three or five years in advance, for they will not only be aiding you but will save money by so doing and also save the bother of monthly collections.

If The Register is new in their home, you can easily convince them that it is a publication which should be a daily visitor because it contains a complete world news service as well as all local happenings, and renders them a service that they may secure in no other medium.

There are probably 20,000 homes in Orange county. The Register is now going into about 7,200 of them. Those 7,200 will be glad to help some contestant by renewing their subscription and paying in advance, and there are more than 10,000 other homes where someone is likely to get NEW subscriptions.

No matter who you are or where you live, just so you reside in Orange county, a great opportunity is unfolded to you and this contest may be the means of your obtaining what you have long desired—a brand new, beautiful automobile.

It's up to you.

$59,115 WEEK'S PERMIT TOTAL IN BUILDING

"In no way is the growth of the city better exemplified than in its building activities," was the statement made today by W. S. Decker, city building inspector, who has issued from his office during the past week thirty-seven building permits, twelve of them for residences to cost $3,000 or more.

The sum involved in the week's transactions was $59,115, which brings the total for the month to a sum several hundred dollars in excess of $139,000. Since September has more than a week to run, the month will be among the banner ones of the year, it is believed, although the record of August will be hard to beat, since that month saw the sum of $213,370 involved in building operations.

PLANT ADDITION RUSHED AS NEW SPACE NEEDED FOR PACKING OPERATIONS

East First Street House Prepared for Season's Peak Operations

HUNDREDS FIND WORK

$120,000 to Be Paid Growers for Products This Year, Estimate

With work under way on a brick building 35x48 to provide increased packing facilities at the East First cannery of the California Packing corporation, C. C. Cornett, superintendent of the big plant, today was preparing to enter the season's peak period of packing, coincidentally with completion of the building three weeks hence.

The building, designed to relieve congestion in the peeling department, will be used exclusively for peeling. New machinery will be installed in it. Machinery now in the main building will probably be removed into the new structure after the season's run on chilis and pimentos.

It is understood that the company plans further developments that will result in increasing the plant's capacity.

See Rush of Work
The season for chilis is about ended and pimentos are now coming in. Pimento receipts will be heavy. The full harvest will be under way shortly. Arrangements are being made to have full forces at work in the field and cannery when the new addition to the plant is completed.

The chilis are of excellent quality, though somewhat lighter than last season. Growers are being paid $20 a ton, or about 30 per cent less than last season, according to Cornett. The cannery will handle about 700 tons of chilis, which means that by the end of the season the company will have paid growers around $14,000.

Nine hundred acres of pimentos are under contract to the corporation and it is expected that between 3000 and 4000 tons will be harvested and handled through the cannery.

The growers are being paid $30 a ton, this figure also being 30 per cent less than was paid last year. On the basis of 4000 tons, the corporation will have turned over to the growers, when the crop is harvested, a total of $120,000. Growers are paid spot cash upon delivery if they want the money. Many, however, do not want spot cash and let a number of deliveries accumulate before drawing down real cash, it is said.

The plant is now employing 175 men and 50 women and the number on the payroll will be increased to 250 women and 100 men by November 15, the peak of the season, when it is expected the new peeling house and equipment will be available.

The packing season on pimentos will continue until December 1, although the closing period will depend more or less on climatic conditions. Should weather cold enough to nip pimento vines prevail prior to December 1, the season will close. If cold weather does not come the season may continue beyond that date.

RETIRED PHYSICIAN DECIDES SANTA ANA WILL BE HIS HOME

More than certain now that Santa Ana is the place in which they want to live, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Rairdon and their daughter have returned to this city. Dr. Rairdon has purchased the residence at 1802 Bush street, from the George Randall estate, and this week the family is getting settled in the place.

Dr. Rairdon's parents lived in Orange and Santa Ana for many years. At that time Dr. Rairdon was practicing medicine in Lewis, Kan. Retiring from practice a year or so ago, the doctor moved to Santa Ana and remained here for several months. A move was then made to Riverside. About ten days ago, the family returned to Santa Ana, this time to stay.

FULLERTON LIGHTING SYSTEM MEETS FAVOR

The ornamental lighting system that is to be installed at Fullerton has met with instant favor throughout that city and there is a prospect of numerous additions being asked by property owners. Several districts have already either petitioned the city trustees to install the lights or are contemplating such action.

Striving For Sincerity

Sincerity covers a multitude of faults. If the one we love is sincere there is no bound to the forgiveness we may have. No minor fault can stand in the way of our friendships if those we love are sincere.

The pungent fragrance of the flower is its evidence of sincerity. One knows at once that it is real.

Men and women carry about them an invisible atmosphere which either attracts or repels, builds or destroys, sweetens or sours.

Instinctively one feels realness—sincerity. A baby feels it. A horse does. A dog gets it at once.

There is no way in the world whereby falseness may be concealed. Sincerity looks like day and radiates as do the rays of the sun.

In sincerity are all the precious treasures of life warmly and securely wrapped.

And through sincerity are hearts made like pure gold—a thousand fine!

We know sincerity because we see it so often. In eyes that look right into ours, in the strength and fineness of the hand-shake, and by the very mode and method of the words that reach our sight and hearing from the heart-rooms of those we trust.

No one has ever been able to conceal character. Words, deeds, fame, money, social standing—character walks at the head and precedes them all.

But without sincerity, character is like unto a crumbling ruin—desolate and full of tragedy.

MEXICO WINS BOUT WITH UP STATE BOY

Kid Mexico earned last night at Delhi just what he should have gotten two weeks ago—a decision over Bert Tribby.

These babies put up a mean scrap in their main event, and after it was all over there wasn't a doubt as to who carried off the win. It was Mexico's fight throughout, the Santa Ana boy taking the second, third and fourth rounds by a wide margin. The first was even.

The fans got their money's worth last night twice over. It was the best balanced card of the summer.

Mexico's terrible uppercut was the decisive factor in his victory last night. He used it time after time with telling effect and nearly had his man out in the second. Tribby was visibly hurt in that round and in the fourth. He covered up and hung on.

K. O. Swall didn't show up for his fray with Sam Casper and Eddie Mackey substituted. The fish at the ringside were disappointed, as they had figured on seeing a hysterical mill. Mackey, however, did every bit as well as Swall could have done in making the battle funny. He mauled the burly Casper all over the ring and rocked him with rights and lefts, but only got a draw for his efforts.

Jack Sparr disappointed the bugs last night in his mill with Sailor Rollins. Sparr is a clever boy and he is a better fighter than he showed. He earned the decision but that was all. He had only a shade. Rollins was willing to mix it but was a little too small for his opponent.

Norman Holmes and Carl Eckhart didn't put up such a sensational battle as they have in their past bouts, but it was nice stuff at that. During the first two rounds they stalled around too much. After that Holmes got busy and nearly put Eckhart to sleep. He easily took the decision. Both boys looked to be in poor condition.

Battling Hererra has improved just one hundred per cent since his last scrap. He and Sherman Holmes mixed it up to the satisfaction of all concerned in the curtain raiser to a draw. Hererra had the second round, Holmes won the third and the first and the last was upsticks. It was a nifty little affair.

YANKS AND INDIANS READY FOR BIG ROW

By HENRY L. FARRELL,

United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Sure of one end of the big show, New York will start rehearsing world's series capers tomorrow.

Cleveland and the Yanks will start a four-day battle for the American League pennant that will have all the trimmings of the real show.

The Yankee club owners and the police also expect to handle a crowd of 40,000 at each game of the series. Every reserved seat has been sold for every game.

While the Yankees go into this series to battle it out for the rag, the Giants practically are "in."

McGraw's men have seven more games to play, three with the Cardinals, two with the Phillies and one each with the Braves and Robins.

Pittsburgh has eleven more games, two with the Robins, four with the Phillies and five with the Cards in St. Louis.

If the Giants win five out of the last seven, the Pirates will have to win eleven straight to get a tie. If the Giants win four out of seven, the Pirates will have to win eleven in a row to win. If the Giants win three, the Pirates must win ten out of eleven.

With the American League it is different. The Yanks have a lead of one point and the only sure way for them to clinch the pennant is to win every one of their remaining eleven games.

Cleveland with only nine more games on the schedule is a little better off than the Yanks.

ANGELS LOSE LEAD IN COAST FLAG RACE

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—Los Angeles dropped back into second place in the Coast League pennant race when the locals took a 1 to 0 ten inning game here yesterday. Three hits in the tenth frame, more than Tom Hughes had allowed in the other nine innings, gave the locals the long end of the score. Hughes struck out 13 Seattle batters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Sacramento won yesterday's game from Oakland, 6 to 2, in the first inning by touching up Kramer for four runs. Kramer was taken out in the fifth after two more runs were made. The Senators relieved Kunz in the second when he walked two men, and Fittery finished the game. McGaffigan was ordered to the clubhouse in the first inning for disputing a third strike decision.

GOOD SHOWINGS AT LAGUNA, EL TORO

The Laguna Oil association, near Laguna, drilling at 2900, continues to make hole in the brown shale and is getting some encouraging showings.
At 2125 feet the Nusanta, near El Toro, struck sufficient showings of oil and gas to warrant the setting of a string of pipe. The 10-inch was set at the stated depth and the well will stand two weeks.

The Wirscher and Gray Oil company now has three wells under way. No. 1, under the name of the Wirscher-Gray Oil company, is at 2400, and showing a nice brown shale, a formation never heretofore found in the field. No. 2, under the name of the 1325 feet. No. 3, W. A. G. Oil and Petroleum company, is rigging up and will spud in before the end of the week.

On the Long Beach consolidated's Newport property the U. S. Petroleum syndicate has started installing of equipment for production of heavy oil from the 11-foot blanket developed on the property at a depth of 345 feet. The oil in two wells has come up to within 175 feet of the top. This oil will be liquefied with heat from steam coils and pumped out. The industry, if successful, will be a new one in the production of petroleum.

$20,000 FOR RESIDENCE

E. K. Benchley, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Fullerton, sold his beautiful residence, 600 North Spadra avenue, Fullerton, to Earnest Gregory. The amount involved was in the neighborhood of $20,000. Benchley will give possession about December 1.

REFUSE FORTUNE FOR 1000-ACRE BEACH TRACT

By ELWOOD J. MUNGER.

The showing of the Standard's Torrance No. 1 in the Huntington Beach field is making the land out west of the well look promising and for a community proposition aggregating a little better than a thousand acres a half million dollars cash and refused during the past week. The property owners are holding out for bigger figures.

The Union Oil company of California has three wells drilling at Huntington. Copeland No. 1, the Union's only producer, continues to do 200 barrels.

The Amalgamated's Pearce No. 1 gas showing did not appear until a depth of 3565 feet was reached.

Start Two Drilling.

The Argonaut Oil company is one of the small companies doing much work at Huntington. The company started two new wells drilling. Argonaut No. 1 is one of the field's consistent producers doing 200 barrels daily.

The Bell of Montebello ceased drilling at 2335 and is being prepared to bring in.

George E. Cloud's No. 1 has settled down to a 275-barrel well. Drilled to 2315, the water was shut off successfully and the well is rapidly cleaning up on production.

Eddystone Starts Third Ashton Well.

On the Ashton property on which the Eddystone Oil corporation opened up the surprise well of the east side of the field three months ago, a third well is now spudding in. Ashton No. 1 and No. 2 are producing at 325 barrels.

Goes to Malis Syndicate.

Step by step the Malis syndicate is acquiring properties at Huntington Beach until now the syndicate has some of the choicest properties in the field and is carrying on an extensive drilling campaign. The latest addition to the syndicate properties is the holdings of the Huntington Coalings Oil company. This is now to be known as the Malis Aldahl. A good showing of oil was struck on the Aldahl at 2551.

After standing for two months, the Hurst Oil company's No. 1 is to be opened up and put on production.

E. J. Miley's big well has settled down to a flow of 500 barrels.

The Miley-Keck Oil company will increase production with two wells this week. No. 4 is ready to bring in. No. 5, drilled out at 2550, and is also ready to bring in. Both wells have been drilled in successfully and should make nice producers.

Redrill Now at 3475.

Mosier Special No. 1, the redrill well, is now making hole at 3475. The formation shows sandy brown shale, but is not carrying much oil.

The Pacific Gas and Petroleum company, a new concern that entered the Huntington Beach field this week, has secured acreage on adjoining property east of the Malis Syndicate and is building a rig at Pantegies-Huntington No. 1 sprang a surprise by starting to flow and increasing its production from 275 barrels to 510 barrels.

Gets 300 Barrel Well.

The Petroleum Midway has brought in its second well at Huntington Beach. The new producer is Vollmeyer No. 1, drilled to 3265 feet, and came in a 300-barrel well.

The Rhoades Oil company has completed and put on production its No. 2, drilled to 2375 feet. The new well is making 275 daily.

Sun Well Deepen No. 3.

Not satisfied with the small and irregular production No. 3 is making, the Sun Oil company has decided to deepen the well. This well created a little stir a few months ago with its so-called top building a rig at 2067 feet. The initial output did not hold up, however.

Huntington Sure Shot, drilled to 2278, is drilling out the cement and as soon as a water test is made this well will be ready to drill on into production. It is showing very strong.

So far as deep production is concerned, it seems that the Standard Oil company has a chance now to get a nice well at Torrance No. 1. Drilled to 4455, the well failed to show much of anything. However, ten feet more and oil and a very satisfactory showing was found.

Brings in 200-Barrel Well.

At Huntington E-2 the Standard brought in at 2275 a 200-barrel well.

FORECAST PRODUCER AS GAS SHOWING IN WELL AT COUNTY PARK

The National Security Oil company's No. 1, near Orange county park, drilling at 2335, is in a sandy shale and showing lots of gas. Indications now look good for production at 3000 feet.

The National Exploration company's Olinda No. 1 is now drilling at 3300 feet in sandy shale and is going ahead nicely. At Chino, No. 1 is standing cemented at 1157, and 1300 feet of hole.

The Bixby Hills Syndicate No. 1, beyond Olive in the Santa Ana canyon, has passed the 4500-foot mark without getting any oil, and is now close to 4600, drilling in brown shale and boulders. The outlook for a well is now not considered very promising. Few wells in the south make producers after passing 4500 feet.

It is understood that the New York-California Oil company will resume operations soon in the Santa Ana canyon.

NEW PRODUCERS ARE DUE AT LONG BEACH

Drilling at 3240 feet, the Oceanic Oil company, in the Long Beach field, came into an excellent showing of oil sand that makes the outlook for the west side well good. For two weeks a constant watch has been kept on the formation changes, the oil being expected any time after the 2,100 foot mark had been passed.

Speed and consistent drilling is the policy of the Shell company of California on Signal Hill. Eleven wells are now under way.

The Sandburg Petroleum company is making a water test of its second cementing job at No. 1. Drilled to 2848, the pipe was reset at 2808 and from the indications of the casing test it is believed a water shut-off has been achieved this time. Sandburg No. 2 is drilling in tough sandy shale at 2945. The Sandburg interests have disposed of the "Hard-boiled" lease to the Spaulding Gas and Petroleum company. The new owners are rigging up and expect to begin drilling in about ten days.

Signal Hill syndicate drilled to 2996 and set a string of ten-inch. The showing previous to the cementing was very encouraging and the Syndicate has every reason to expect a nice well.

SURPRISE WELL SOARS TO 1000 BARRELS DAY

While the Krug No. 4 well of the Petroleum Midway company in the Richfield section continues to perform wonders on production, having climbed up to 1316 barrels a day, with no signs of a slump, the General Petroleum company, in the same district, has brought in a 1000-barrel producer at Hugo No. 2. These were the outstanding developments of the Richfield territory during the past few days.

Petroleum Midway's Krug No. 4 is one of the sensational wells of the district.

As to General Petroleum's Hugo No. 2, it is one of the best in the Yorba Linda district. It proved a surprise well.

Drilled to 3225 feet, it started off at 600 barrels, but quickly increased this production to 1000 barrels. The oil is better than 19 gravity and is free from water and sand.

Prepare For Production

General Petroleum's group 4-3, completed at 3200, is being prepared for production. A small well is expected. Stein No. 1 drilled to 3260 and is now prospecting ahead for an oil sand. Carpenter No. 2 is drilling 1225 in clay and gravel. Carpenter No. 2 is expected to tie up with some of the Petroleum Midway's big Krug producers and make a well.

The Petroleum Midway's Richfield Yorba No. 2 is on a production test at 4157. The well is pumping some oil and a little water. Yarnell No. 9 resumed drilling at 3800 with cable tools. Carter No. 1 is now drilling at 4225 in brown shale.

With a fishing job at 4196 and the well in the oil sand, Chapman No. 5, the Union Oil company's next producer, is held up fishing for 500 feet of drill pipe.

Gusher "Slipping"

The Union's production shows that Chapman's No. 1, the big well for two years, is gradually slipping. Last week the well dropped from 500 to 450 barrels. No. 2 continues to flow around 1100. No. 6 still holds first place on production. It is doing better than 1600.

On account of some water breaking in and with the idea of getting a big well, the Richfield Giant Oil company has decided to pull both the four and six-inch strings and drill deeper. The present depth of the well is 4210 and it is the idea now to carry it on to 4600 or 4700 before completing.

Resumes Drilling

Held up until a string of four-inch drill pipe could be put on the ground, the Richfield Union Petroleum company now has the pipe and resumed drilling at 3200 feet. The location is considered by followers of the Richfield district as ideal and a good producer is expected at 4200.

The Wonder Oil company drilled out the cement at No. 2 and at 4502 feet the well shows a little water. A test is being made that will determine where the water is coming from and its extent.

Before taking any steps to abandon the Anaheim Union deep well, the Pullerton Oil company will make further tests of the oil showings noted on the way down to 4656, the bottom of the deep test well. A recent test at 4500 and 4400 failed to show any oil. The pump will be set at 3500 and the pipe re-perforated for a third test.

Ready to Go On Production

The Placentia Oil company stopped drilling at 3275 and the perforated pipe is now going in to get the well ready to try out for production. Bailing for a water test is now under way and it looks like the water is shut off. A feature of the Placentia Oil company's well was the nine months' fishing job that made things look rather blue.

The Richfield United Oil company is no more. This company's holdings, producing well and properties have passed into the hands of the Wents syndicate. The syndicate is backed by George Wents, a Placentia orange grower, and "Pat" Adams, a former Standard Oil man.

A rig for No. 2 is now going up. No. 1, a well taken over by the syndicate, is producing about 200 barrels.

Not So Strong

At 3945 feet the showing of oil that created something of a sensation in the Ridge Oil company's No. 1 at 3800 is not quite so strong. While the showing is still encouraging, the big production is not expected now short of 4100 or 4200.

The Standard Oil company now has Kellogg No. 2 on production. This well, drilled to 3620, is doing about 50 barrels. On the Kraemer No. 2 property No. 15 is drilling at 4100 and showing up rather good.

Additional field information follows:

Several suitable places have been suggested. The books are expected to arrive by the middle of October. Mr. Drake donated his services toward the building of necessary bookcases and shelving. The people of La Habra anxiously await the coming of this much-needed innovation.

FINE FELLOWSHIP OF BREA CITIZENS IS MANIFEST AT SESSION OF CHAMBER

BREA, Sept. 22.—The Brea Chamber of Commerce met in the dining room of the school house Monday evening. Dinner was provided by the ladies of the Christian church.

An innovation hit this meeting in the form of after-dinner mints for the benefit of the non-smokers, who for some years have witnessed their money burned up in tobacco smoke which they endure for the sake of the more delightful fellowship of the meeting.

Mr. Jones, who kindly looks after the trimmings, took pity on these unfortunate non-smokers and out of the goodness of his heart and desire for fairness invested in some candy. Long live Jones! May his tribe increase, and also the non-smoking tribe.

A meeting of the Brea chamber reminds one of a family gathering at Thanksgiving. The feasting over good natured discussion of family topics ensue, leading out to many fields and like busy bees richly laden, the men return home with ideas enough to stock a college.

New members were received as follows: William D. Adkins, son of the late W. C. Adkins, editor and publisher of the Brea Progress; William D. is a true son of his beloved father and is learning to run the paper to which he falls heir. He has made a good impression here and at the meeting responded in a neat little speech that reminds one of the "chip off the old block."

Messrs. Badgley and Reed, new barbers, who have beautified the "Palace" and converted it into the "White Way," where they do say a throng of men seeking tonsorial skill congregate, were given the glad hand. Professing that they are not talkers, some one remarked that Brea had found rare gems in two barbers who do not talk.

Mr. Reed has an honorable record of four years as chief barber on the battleship Oklahoma. He is from the Lone Star state. Mr. Badgley is from Arkansas, where he got the genial spirit which he cultured in Fullerton, where he used to hear that "Brea was the north end of Fullerton," but now that he lives in the north end he has discovered that "Fullerton is the south end of Brea."

A. M. Logsdon, who claims that he has gotten fat since he quit tobacco, has lived more than a year in Brea and can't be induced to depart. He was given a royal welcome.

Mr. O. Wood, a lad who went into the Acme store here as a clerk, not many moons ago, gave himself so industriously to the business that he also is a born advertiser and sees the opportunity. Those cement tables, with cement benches, supplied so freely to the comfort of motorists out of the desert trip from the East or about to leave "Paradise" to plunge into it, made a deep impression on the doctor's Brea patriotism, so he took an option on a table for Brea.

It costs $50 and a name plate goes in the table center.

Mayor Sexton, having recently dined there with a desert-made appetite brought up reinforcements and the Chamber capitulated.

Brea will welcome the rest of America, along with Santa Ana, at the gateway to California in the best known travelers' C. C. Jarvis and W. H. Swapp were appointed to solicit funds and a shower of silver deluged the committee.

W. E. Spicer, chairman of the Brea Benefit committee, to which has been given the unwelcome duty of investigating mendicants and other applicants for charity or collection of funds made a report of three home enterprises of civic worth endorsed; and of several plain bums and "Weary Willies" who were sifted out and denied the privilege of soliciting.

Interesting Trip
Last but not least the entertainment committee introduced Mayor Jay C. Sexton, who was given an ovation. The mayor told in easy story the outstanding features of his interesting trip with his family by auto back to "home sweet home" and on to Niagara Falls and return.

He started on June 8 and arrived home again last week, satisfied that California is ahead in the game and that Brea is by far the best small city he knows.

One follows his journey easily and enters into their experiences, going and coming readily, as the mayor spoke so entertainingly and instructively.

Business conditions he observed were good here, bad in the Middle West and worse farther East; cattle industry is bad; corn crops looking extra fine; business men taking their shrinkage and starting with new prices on a new level and hopeful for steady normal business in six months or a year.

The mayor is on the job for a bigger and better Brea, and right welcome, at that.

COSTA MESA
COSTA MESA, Sept. 22.—Arden Long entertained his Sunday school class with a weiner roast at the beach Saturday evening. The class assembled at the Long home where S. claret, presented a handsome set of sherry glasses and a lovely vase to Mr. and Mrs. Winnifred Whitehead, who recently returned from their "honeymoon."

Then all drove to the beach, and a huge campfire was built where the weiners were roasted and a splendid supper of weiners, sandwiches, pickles, cake and hot coffee was served. Supper over, a delightful period followed of story telling and roasting marshmallows round the fire.

Those who enjoyed the evening were: Misses Beulah Ellis, Evelyn Bauman, Loretta Schular, Dorothy Alleman; Messrs. Perry Maynard, Bryant Stearns, Victor Teny, Warren Meesing, Carl May and Arden Long, Mr. and Mrs. Winnifred Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long.

Our Quality is the best, but cheaper than the rest. Lees Luncheonette, Hill's Market, 11th and Broadway.

MIDWAY PETROLEUM CANCELS LEASE, WORD

CYPRESS, Sept. 22.—The Midway Petroleum company have moved the derrick and all machinery from the Bennett lease.

"The lease has been cancelled and it is understood the company is to cancel all leases in this district. The company did not live up to its contract of drilling 3500 feet or 'til a producing well was developed," said W. C. Miller today. "It is known that both oil and gas were encountered at about the 2400-foot level. The company gave as their reason for abandoning development work in this section, over-supply of oil. It would appear that the large companies have entered into gentleman's agreement to curtail development work as much as possible."

"If the people of this section wish early development they will have to turn to the Lessors company and back it with financial as well as moral support," continued Miller.

"The Lessors company have erected a derrick and have the ballers set and ready. All this has been paid for by stock sales. The company is now working on a proposition to raise $25,000, and it's up to the people of the community to see that the money is raised."

MEX. METHODISTS
ENJOY BIG REUNION

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 22.—A very interesting and profitable all-day convention of the Methodist Mexican Sunday school and young peoples' societies of the county was held here Sunday in the M. E. church where the Mexican people hold services. One hundred and thirty-two delegates in attendance, including two automobiles from Rivera and a gospel team of young people from the Plaza church, Los Angeles. The services were all in the Mexican language.

The meeting opened at 9:30 with a devotional service conducted by Mr. Esparza. The usual Sunday school classes were dispensed with and a general talk was given by the Rev. Vincente Mendoza, of Pomona.

The 11 o'clock preaching service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Sein, of the Plaza Mexican church, Los Angeles.

Following this a free lunch was served to all the delegates. Members of the Presbyterian church were asked to assist in providing the lunch which they gladly did.

The afternoon was devoted to the young people, the devotional service at 2 p. m. being conducted by the Rev. Narro, of Anaheim. At 2:15 the Gospel team from Los Angeles presented the work of the Epworth League. At 3:15 a talk was given by the Rev. Vincente Mendoza on the subject, "The Young People in the Sunday School."

After a short business session the meeting adjourned and refreshments were again served consisting of coffee and buns.

The evening service consisted of a praise service led by the Rev. J. Nava and an illustrated address by the Rev. V. M. McCombs, superintendent of the Latin American missions, showing the work of missions in those countries.

The evening closed with an impressive consecration service in charge of the Rev. Mr. Mendoza.

The effect of the meeting will be to give encouragement to the workers and deepen the interest in the mission here, it is said.

AT THE BEET DUMPS

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Sept. 22.—Local beet dumps are gradually increasing shipment with the last half of the beet harvest season now on.

Dates set for the closing of dumps varies from October 20 to November 1, an extension of time, however, being possible in case all beets are not then out.

The Co-operative at Sugar closed the week just past with a total of 580 tons sent out, with an average of seven ranchers hauling.

The Wintersburg American reports 35 cars of approximately 1000 tons for the week.

The Anaheim at Smeltzer sent out 32 cars; six ranchers being represented in this shipment.

Four cars a day was the average for the Sugar American, this being an increase of one car per day over the weeks when the ranchers were on tonnage. Seven ranchers all hauling from a distance patronized the dump this week.

American Sugar had a shipment of 24 cars sent in by even ranchers.

ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Sept. 22.—First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Anaheim, announces a free lecture on Christian Science by Paul Stark Seesley, C. S. B., of Portland, Oregon, member of the board of lecturers of the mother church, the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Mass., and cordially invites the public to be present. Lecture to be given at the new Grand theater next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

BIG SUCCESS SEEN FOR DEEP TEST WELL

The Brea Canyon Oil company's deep test well No. 32, drilled to close to 4200 will probably make good at 3300. The four-inch has been pulled out and production will be tried for at a 1000 feet up. The well now flows somewhat and occasionally shoots oil over the crown block.

The Columbia Oil company has a good well in the making at Orange No. 7. Drilling at 3375 feet in oil sand, this well is showing up very good.

Increasing its production from 200 to 300 barrels is what the Fullerton Oil Company's No. 16 drilled to 4200 feet did this past week.

SAFE HUNTING FOR HUNTERS

Fall brings the hunting season, and from September to December the woods and fields in many localities are full of local and visiting hunters. Protective legislation pretty well safeguards the game, but nothing has been found thus far to make hunting safe for the hunters.

If the usual number of human casualties are not to be reported from the hunting fields this year, every man who goes out must remember that his gun is a deadly weapon and handle it accordingly. One writer suggests as a safe rule, "Always keep the gun pointed where it will do no damage should it go off by accident." To this might be added, "then know so well what you and those around you are doing that accidental discharge of the weapon is impossible." Also, when preparing to shoot, be sure that it is game at which you are aiming.

A hunting season conducted under such rules should result in plenty of sport, and still be free from the tragedies which, year after year, darken the pages of recreation.

THE NEED OF IRISH RELIEF

While Ireland and England have been laboring over the establishment of peace and satisfactory government, the American committee for relief in Ireland has been quietly proceeding with the business of relieving suffering in the areas about Cork, Belfast and Dublin. It is reported by the committee that a million dollars in emergency relief has been expended, giving aid to 50,000 people. A group of English Quakers, the Irish White Cross and the American relief committee have worked together in harmony and usefulness.

There are approximately 100,000 persons who need help. Over half of these live on farms. Practically nothing has been done for them as yet because they have been better fixed for taking care of themselves during the summer than the city dwellers. They furnish a big problem for the coming winter, however.

In its preliminary survey the committee found that the causes of need for relief included internment and imprisonment of wage earners; the unemployment caused by the destruction of factories and shops; destruction of homes by fire; internment of small farmers; the closing down of sections of railways and the restrictions on motor traffic; transport difficulties of fishermen; the need of providing medical treatment for noncombatants accidentally wounded; for young mothers left without support, for sickness, and in some instances burial of the dead.

The effort and money of the American committee have gone to emergency relief because it was so urgent. There is, however, growing need for help in reconstruction. As the emergency expenditures can be reduced, the committee will give more attention to the making of loans to owners of small businesses which are in need of funds and equipment.

Most Americans feel that the Irish political problem is one in which they have no right to interfere. So far it is distinctly up to England and Ireland. But this description of relief work accomplished and of the greater needs still to be met shows the great human need for a settlement of the whole question and strengthens the profound hope of every civilized being that politicians and diplomats will not postpone the peaceful adjustment of their differences much longer.

THE IRISH DIVISION

The chief enemy of Ireland, after all, is Ireland. Ireland can get from Great Britain virtually what it wants, if it can only agree as to what it wants. It seems as far from agreement as ever.

Ulster threatens civil war if settlement with Sinn Fein Ireland leads to any diminution of the rights and privileges of the newly established parliamentary government in Ulster. Sinn Fein Ireland threatens war with Great Britain if its terms are not met in the present negotiations, and that would mean civil war in Ireland.

There ought to have been two islands, and two Irelands. As matters stand, there are two Irelands spiritually, but one geographically and economically. Though they were cut in two by a cataclysm of nature or the building of a great wall or canal, each would remain industrially and commercially incomplete without the other. Ulster, the great center of business and industry, needs the materials and markets of South Ireland. South Ireland needs Ulster, its business capital. Yet the two are still pulling apart, at a time when, more than ever before in history, the situation demands their pulling together.

How can the Irish problem be solved until Irishmen learn compromise and tolerance, for mutual benefit if not from a spirit of fraternalism?

REPARATION MORATORIUM

The idea of a "reparation moratorium" is being agitated in Germany. Many German leaders are represented as heartily in favor of it. They argue thus:

"Germany's effort to pay the first billion marks, though successful, sent the paper mark way down. Every successive attempt to fulfill the reparations obligations will inevitably be accompanied by an increasing strain and will inevitably send the paper mark still further down. Sooner or later this will bring about a catastrophe—probably sooner. This is contrary to the Allies', and particularly America's, interest, since Germany's purchasing power shrinks as the mark falls. The Allies—and above all, America—have an interest in preventing this development and in seeing the mark stabilized. For the stabilization of the mark it is essential that Germany obtain a breathing spell. Such a breathing spell would be best obtainable through a reparation moratorium for one year; even six months would help."

This is ingenious, but not convincing. The beginning of gold payments from Germany to the Allies has doubtless had some effect in lowering the German exchange rate, but it has not been the main factor. The principal reason why the German mark has dropped so far recently has been the free and unlimited issuance of paper money by the German printing presses. The natural remedy for what Germany complaints of is not help from her creditors, but a halt in the debasement of her own currency.

Moreover, the Allies, and America with them, feel that there has been quite enough moratorium already in the payment of Germany's war obligations. It would be unwise to press Germany too hard, but it would also be unwise to make the German task of reparation and redemption any easier than necessary. Before there are any more concessions, Germany will have to show very good cause for them, and prove that what she asks of the nations she has wronged is something that she cannot possibly do for herself.

Lenine and Trotzky, threatening war against Roumania, are merely resorting to one of the oldest devices of autocrats—start a war to divert the people's attention from their own wretchedness.

About Glaring Headlights

Fresno Republican

Warning has been issued by officials of the state motor vehicle department, threatening to refuse registration to agencies of motor companies that place upon the markets cars that are not properly lighted. This is a proper tracing of the trouble to its source.

The purchasing of an automobile in California from an authorized agent of a company in regular standing has a right to assume that his car conforms to law.

True, the police department of cities or counties cannot look upon it in this way. The man who is driving a car is supposed to know that it is equipped according to law, and he is liable to arrest if it does not conform. But this process of securing law and order by penalizing violators is a long and imperfect course. It is much better to be logical about it. And the logic of it is that the maker and the seller of the car should know that the car is in lawful form. It should be made inconvenient for the agent that attempts to do business with unlawfully equipped cars.

True, it may be difficult for the manufacturer of cars in Michigan to make his cars conform to the laws in the other forty-seven states. But at least he should have familiarity enough with the requirements of auto driving to permit his cars to be adjusted in each state to the peculiarities of state enactment. And it should be the primary business of the state agency to see that cars under their supervision do conform to law.

The principle of "let the buyer beware" whether his car is fitted to the traffic regulations adds to the hazard of the general public. And this hazard is now too great. At best, the number of eccentric drivers, drivers either careless or ignorant or indifferent to the Volstead act, make a menace of being on the highways. And an appreciable part of the difficulty of driving at night is due to glaring headlights.

Headlights must adapt themselves to two requirements. They must be sufficiently bright to light the roadway, so that the auto motorist may go ahead at a reasonable rate of speed. And it must be dim enough so that the oncoming car driver shall not be stupefied by the glare. The last is too frequent a happening, because it pleases the motorist to be able to see his own way. Often as many as one in six of the cars one meets at night are glaring, so bright that for the moment the oncoming driver is confused. As between the right of one car to go fast and of the other not to be confused, the first must be required to go as slowly as to fit into the general conditions of travel.

The state motor vehicle department should be upheld in its determination to require uniformity in motor cars sales to fit law requirements.

Our Trade With Australia

San Francisco Chronicle

There is general agreement that the next great commercial and industrial development will be among the peoples bordering on the Pacific ocean. Some have this belief because they hear competent people say so. Those who have themselves studied the subject know that it must be so because it is in those countries that the majority of the still undeveloped resources of the earth are found. It is the development of new resources that gives new direction to human effort.

And the development of the Pacific nations is to be far more rapid and spectacular than any previous movement, because there are ready at hand more people to do the work. When the development of the Americas began Europe was but half settled, the Americas were a wilderness and transportation methods were crude. Now there are at hand the people and the means.

One part of that movement will be the development of the Australian continent, as has just been effectively shown to us by Sir Arthur Rickard, an enthusiastic Australian, who happens to be with us. Years ago Professor Arnold Guyot, then of Harvard, prophesied that the western movement of population would continue until some pressure was felt on the American shore of the Pacific, when there would come a deflection southward until equilibrium was also established there.

We are now at the beginning of that movement. Australia, the southern continent, which is occupied by the most energetic and masterful of the white races, almost without admixture, is already feeling the impulse and will go far. We have much in common with Australia and it is well for us and for the Australians also that our relations are so cordial. And the more that we deal with each other the better for both.

WHO'S YOUR BOSS?

Bosses are all right—if they are the right Bosses. All through Nature and Human Life is felt the power of Bosses, good and bad. Everything would go to pieces, the world would run amuck, if there were no Bosses. That's why it is a satisfying thing to know that you can select your own Boss.

There are Bosses—and Bosses. Some folks let a little 3-inch paper of tobacco boss them. Some have been led around most of their lives by little glasses of fire-water. Some of us are ruled by a bunch of worries. Some of us allow our stomachs to boss us. Some turn over the reins of government to clothes and style and "what will the neighbors say?" These are pretty hard Bosses. But don't forget—

You can select your own Boss. One of the saddest sights in the world is a wrongly bossed man or woman. For that man is a failure—that woman is in misery. Let's think of our Bosses for a minute. Who's YOUR Boss? What Bosses boss you. Don't forget that—

You can choose your own Boss. This is the way: Put your Will in complete control. Make it Boss. The Human Will is the greatest, finest Boss in all the world of Bosses. Then say—

"Nerves, a word with you! You are not my Boss. Fear, you can't run me. Habit, you have to give up; you can't boss me. But—" "Will, let's shake hands! I select you as my Boss. And from this day on, there is to be Order, Growth, Power in this life of mine."

The Velvet Hammer

The name a man is born with may affect his future state from the time he is a baby 'til he's seated with the great. A man that has the name of Head, is busy every minute in proving that he's worth the name because there's something in it.

When H. C. Head was just a boy he said "My name means knowledge and so I guess it's up to me to go from school to college." So law he read at U. of C.—admitted to the bar he stayed in Santa Ana where the real good lawyers are. He has a reputation wide for clear and forceful speaking; he's fighting on the side of right, opposed to all that's sneaking.

While eloquent in court or hall, he never is bombastic, "a lawyer and an honest man" can never seem fantastic applied to Head, who while at home or when afar he journeys, will ever be pronounced to be one of our best attorneys.

To sail the shining main, to seek new shores
And unknown countries, bursting golden doors
To fair new realms that basked in summer's smile,
He saw no stranger sights than we today
In these our city streets, where earth has poured
From every farthest land her human horde:
Proud Nipponese, sojourners from Cathay,
Shrewd Greeks, and Turks, and roving Syrians;
Gay Spanish dons and dour Scotch peasantry,
High-hearted French, dark rogues from Barbary;
No race or breed is barred by selfish bans.
Here, where the dream of liberty had birth,
God dreams His dream, democracy for earth.

HEALTH

SOMETHING ABOUT
HOW TO KEEP WELL

WORRY AND "NERVES"

Not all worry is preventable, yet much of it, as well as its ill effects, can be avoided. Worry usually is brought about by the fact that the normal protective instinct is stimulated by a normal fear of events that are reasonably sure to happen in the future, unless means are adopted against them.

Most of our fears, however, are never realized. If we meet our troubles day by day as they come, without worrying about them beforehand, we find that we have the strength to overcome them.

Worrying weakens the mental forces. The best antidote is a change of mental occupation. Get away from the scenes which provoke worry, exercise in the open air, read one or several books of a lighter strain, find pleasant recreation or an absorbing "hobby." A temporary change of occupation where possible often brings considerable relief from worry.

Worry and "nerves" and "the blues" are all of about the same type. "Nerves" and "blues" often arise from excessive worry and great mental strain. When a person worries the whole system is poisoned, with the result that the person suffers physically.

Cheerful society, the cultivation of an optimistic attitude of mind and tonic baths are necessary aids to recovery. A fit of the "blues" is as much an intoxication as a drunken spree. A bad attack hinders wise and efficient action as thoroughly as drunkenness.

Excessive worry tires the nerves just as excessive work tires the muscles. The poison that results in a natural product that must be thrown off to keep from getting "nerves" and "blues."

As in the case of bodily fatigue the best remedy is complete relaxation and rest. A sound body as a rule is accompanied by a sound and healthy mind.

The Opportunity of Today

Visalia Times

School work—like a ball game—must get off right, if it is to be successful. Much depends upon the start, and advance preparation for the business of going to school to learn all one can pay well. The student should be on the job bright and early on the first day, with such equipment as he knows will be needed, and he should appear clean and neat and ready and eager to make a good start. Parents must look well to the school needs and demands made upon their children, and all should co-operate heartily in these necessary preparations in the home for rendering the hopefuls to school in prompt and proper manner.

To the man or the woman old enough to know full well the importance of schooldays and of the daily needs of education and of training capable of fitting the young for the voyage of life, it is a pretty, a cheering and a promising sight to see the girls and the boys of the household tripping merrily to school on the "first day." Such act on their part betokens good reports from such girls and boys further along in life; it signifies that they desire to learn many of the better things that will prepare them for days to come and, with the right kind of encouragement and assistance and co-operation in the home that sends them to school, they will not fail in their aims and ambitions.

The bulwark of this great nation among nations, of which all true blue Americans are so justly proud, is its common school system. It was founded upon the best thought and experience of many of the ablest educators and patriots of the country and from time to time it has been straightened and improved to meet demands made by the ever-changing conditions as time progresses. Its freedom and democracy are equalled by no educational system of the whole world, and all true and really great statesmen hold the school system among the very first elements of national government to be considered among their duties as lawmakers.

As one considers, in the light of later years, the wonderful opportunities afforded by the common schools of almost any given community in this great country, the wonder is, not that so many persons fail to take full advantage of them, but that any should fail to do so.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

CHAPTER 147.

THE TIME SKINNY FOX HAD WINGS

By Harvey Elliott

I want to tell you another good story about a trick Skinny Fox played on the dogs that were hunting him. The main facts I tell you here are true, only we shall give names to the folks mentioned here. It happened in the winter when there was snow on the ground. Every once in a while a chicken had disappeared from Farmer Smith's hen yard. The great suspicion was that it was the Foxes that were carrying them off.

One day, while Farmer Smith and Tommy were cutting wood back of the orchard, they heard Collie the dog and his neighbor's dog barking. Tommy listened for a little while and wondered what they had treed. In a few minutes they saw Skinny Fox run across the clearing. He seemed to be just playing with the dogs and not much afraid that he would be caught.

Skinny Fox had the advantage in the brushy places and he managed to keep pretty close to the brushy country while the dogs were on his trail. He ran about for quite a while from place to place and kept the dogs following his tracks in the snow. As soon as they would get too close for comfort he would play hide and seek with them among the bushes until they would nearly wear themselves out hunting him.

Tommy and his father couldn't help laughing as they saw what a merry chase Skinny was giving Collie and his partner. Now the dogs had little trouble finding Skinny Fox no matter where he would hide, for they would just follow his tracks with their noses in the snow.

Then Tommy Smith saw a real clever thing. He saw Skinny get a good distance ahead, jump up on the rail fence, walk on the fence for quite a way, then give a big jump down the hill into a big snow bank. He went clear out of sight in the snow.

Pretty soon, along came the dogs, following Skinny's tracks. They followed him to the rail fence. Then, mystery of mysteries! The tracks stopped. Skinny Fox wasn't anywhere to be seen. The dogs looked up on the fence, down between the rails, and hunted in every direction for the next tracks, but no sir, those dogs couldn't find a smell.

Collie and his friend were about the worst, when dogs you ever saw. Every once in a while they would lift their noses into the air as if they thought that Fox must have taken wings and flown away.

All the time, Skinny Fox was hiding down in the snow bank. He kept listening all the time, for if the dogs got too near his hiding place he would have to be on his feet else. But he wasn't worrying, as he was sure he could best them in the snow.

Collie and his friend finally gave up the chase. They had come to the end of their string. The tracks stopped and what else could the dogs do but stop too.

Tommy and his father thought that Skinny had played such a clever trick they decided not to tell the dogs where his hiding place was.

"A Fox that can do a smart thing like that deserves to be let alone," said Farmer Smith, "and it wouldn't be fair for us to tell him when he had found such a fine place to hide."

After that day Collie wasn't so enthusiastic about wearing himself out hunting that flying Fox. He just had to admit that Skinny had him beaten.

MISS KITTY

Miss Kitty is our teacher. Her face is round like a flower. And she's shaped like a bolster tied in half. So she don't look like a flower.

She's not extra tall and she's not extra short. And her feet are long for their size. And she eats her lunch rite on her desk. Especially buttermilk and pies.

Her age is between 30 and 60. And she's fearful if you don't mind. O it's not her fault she's a teacher. So let us think of her kind.

Her worst words are "I'll now give out homework." While "The class is dismissed" are her best.

And the nicest thing she does is get sick for a day. While the meanest is to give us a test.

She likes silents in the classroom. But she chases out the flies. And she teaches every subject including fizzy exercise.

It makes her mad if you're late for school. And it takes a good excuse to fool her. O is that the world coming to an end? No, it's Miss Kitty bawling her ruler.
